Empire Line Merger Approval Announced

SEATTLE, Dec. 3 (AP)—Seattle industrialist Nick Bez said today West Coast and Empire Air lines, serving the Pacific northwest, will consolidate.

Bez, president of West Coast, said the new tri-state system will add connecting links between principal terminals in Washington, Oregon and Idaho.

The new line will operate under the West Coast name, with headquarters in Seattle.

West Coast, which has approximately 800 miles of feeder line routes in western Washington and Oergon, will expand to cover some 1,600 miles in the three states.

Bez said West Coast board members approved the deal Friday and notice of Empire stockholders' sanction was received last night from Gwin Hicks, Boise, Ida., Empire vice president.

Effective date of the consolidation is subject to approval of the civil aeronautics board, both men said. The CAB is expected to order a public hearing to determine if the action is in the public interest.

West Coast now flies from Bellingham, Wash., to Medford, Ore. Empire serves 22 communities east of the Cascades in the three states.

Main terminals of the new system will be at Seattle, Spokane and Walla Walla, Wash., and Portland, Ore.

Two Fined and Jailed For Drunken Driving

Two Twin Falls men were fined and sentenced to jail Monday after they pleaded guilty of drunken driving. Two other local men were fined for being drunk on a public highway.

Joe Gibney, Twin Falls, was fined $200 and $6.40 costs and sentenced to 20 days in the county jail. He appeared before Justice of the Peace Ray Potter, Kimberly, and pleaded guilty of drunken driving. Justice Potter stipulated that he may be released from custody from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. daily while serving his sentence.

Kimberly police arrested Gibney about one-half mile south of the Motor-Vu theater about 8:30 p.m. Sunday after following him on sugar factory road from the center of Kimberly.

Judge Potter said he gave Gibney the unusual sentence more as a favor to Gibney's employer because the employer had been "awfully nice to the Kimberly police department at times." Judge Potter said his unual sentence for drunk driving is 10 days in the county jail but he gave Gibney twice that amount.

License Revoked

He also recommanded that Gibney's driver's license be revoked for one year. This phase of the sentence is mandatory.

Gibney is employed by Frank C. McIntyre as an announcer for radio station KLIX. Justice Potter explained the unusual sentence will permit Gibney to continue with his work.

Draws 30-Day Term

John Weaver was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail and fined $100 and $3 costs when he appeared in Twin Falls justice court and pleaded guilty of drunken driving. Suspension of his driver's license for one year will be recommended to the state department of law enforcement.

A state patrolman arrested Weaver and his two companions, John Brower, Rogerson, and Edward McCullouch, 141 Washington street

Agent Assails Caudle Action In Levy Case

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—A justice department attorney testified today that Representative Boykin, D., Ala., and T. Lamar Caudle took what he considered a "highly improper" interest in his prosecution of an Alabama tax fraud case.

John Mitchell, the attorney, gave his story as a house subcommittee swung into its second week of sensation-studded hearings on the "outside activities" which led to dismissal of Caudle last month as an assistant attorney general.

Chairman King, D., Calif., announced he will invite Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark and Atty.-Gen. J. Howard McGrath to testify before his subcommittee includes the present phase of its hearings. He said they probably will be heard later this week, if they want to testify.

King said Clark would be given an opportunity to "clear the record of his participation" in trips to Florida with Caudle in the private plane of Troy Whitehead, Charlotte, N. C., businessman who, it developed later, was having tax troubles.

As for McGrath, the subcommittee wants his comment on Caudle's testimony that McGrath approved Caudle's accepting a $5,000 fee from the sale of an airplane. The buyer was an investigator for a New Yorker later convicted of tax fraud.

Mitchell said the case in which Boykin and Caudle took so much interest involved Gulf Coast Tobacco company. Clark acknowledged over the week-end that he took perhaps as many as three trips in Whitehead's plane.

No Doubt About It, Winter Has Come to Upper Part of Valley

There's no doubt about it. winter has come to the northern part of Magic Valley.

Snow, near-blizzard conditions, slippery roads—everything that goes to make up winter—grip the north country. Cattlemen are worried because of a shortage of feed and roads in some areas have been plugged for more than a week.

The ground in the vicinity of Fairfield has been covered with snow since Nov. 11. Altogether 23 inches of snow have fallen in the village and right now there are 13 good solid inches on the ground. The road to Hailey is closed and the road to Gooding is slippery and dotted with drifts.

Monday morning it was snowing again in Fairfield and the wind was causing some drifting. Cattlemen in the area have been feeding their stock for some time because pastures have been covered with snow. They are wondering now if there is going to be enough feed to last until spring.

Ten miles north of Fairfield on Soldier creek there are 24 inches of snow on the ground, 18 of which has fallen since last Monday. It was snowing there Monday morning.

The highway district office at Shoshone dispatched plows to the Hailey area Monday morning to try to open the road over Galena summit. The road was closed Friday and snow has fallen intermittently since then.

At noon Monday at Hailey, a young blizzard was in the making. Fine snow was falling and the wind, while not howling, was playfully pushing the small flakes around. Hailey has more than a foot of snow on the ground and the highway south to Shoshone is icy and slippery in places.

Fine snow began to fall in the southern part of the valley at noon Monday. Jerome, Twin Falls and Burley reported a few flakes in the air.

According to the Associated Press, the light snow which began to fall in the lower valley around noon will cover most of the southern half of the state by nightfall. Clearing skies are forecast for Tuesday.

Laws' Enforcement Draws Fire in Buhl

BUHL, Dec. 3—Law enforcement—and perhaps the future of Henry Burns as police chief of Buhl—will be the main item of business at a meeting of the Buhl city council Tuesday night.

Matters will be brought to a head upon the insistance of certain businessmen who feel that strict enforcement of traffic regulations is detrimental to business, Chief Burns said.

"Merchants in Buhl can have a bigger cemetery or more business," the chief said. Burns also understands that a petition was circulated in the city last week requesting the council to relieve him as chief. He said he understands the petition did not receive enough signatures to be presented at a special meeting of the council last Friday night.

At the special session Friday Chief Burns asked the council to go on record as backing him in the enforcement of laws pertaining to [illegible] juvenile problems. He told [illegible] state law enforcement agents are willing to assist in cleaning up some of the unwholesome conditions which exist in Buhl.

The council, however, decided to defer action on his request until the return of Mayor Tom Smith who went east several days ago to bring back a new police automobile.

The chief informed the council that if it does not want the city's laws enforced he will resign. He has been chief for less than two months and has conducted a strenuous campaign against traffic violators.

Police Commissioner Don Higbee said he feels the council is satisfied with the performance of the police force under Burns and that no change will be made. Following the meeting Friday, however, he was contacted by a member of the council who suggested that Burns be asked to resign.

The meeting Tuesday night will

LDS Missions Plan Stressed At Local Meet

The LDS church's missionary system was stressed at a quarterly meeting of the Twin Falls [illegible] Saturday night and [illegible] conference was attended by [illegible] persons.

S. Dilworth Young, Salt Lake City, representing the church's general authorities, pointed out 33 Twin Falls stake residents called to explain LDS principles and beliefs upon invitation, cannot keep up with the invitations. He recommended missionary force be increased to 100.

Elder Young was the principal speaker at all sessions of the conference. Donald Arrington, who recently returned from a mission, gave a report. Speakers called from the audience included Ormus M. Bates, Mrs. Lois Bean and Eugene Sturgill.

Other speakers during the day were Claude Brown, stake president, and his counselors, F. Lyman Schenk and Percy L. Lawrence. Sunday sessions featured a male chorus directed by Charles Shirley and accompanied by Mrs. Jay M. Merrill.

At an MIA session Sunday night the principal speaker was Dr. Richard A. Parry, speech expert from Salt Lake City. He spoke on how to prepare and present speeches. He stressed the importance of communication of ideas through speech and the importance of detailed preparation.

Music at this session was provided by a girls chorus from the two LDS wards at Buhl. The chorus was directed by Glenna Christopherson and Wilda Carlson.

Truman Signs FEPC Act for Defense Jobs

KEY WEST, Fla., Dec. 3 (AP)—President Truman signed today a fair employment practice order applying to government contracts.

The order is designed to prevent discrimination against Negroes and other minority groups in hiring employes to carry out government contracts.

It creates a new committee on government contract compliance to work with the department of defense and other agencies.

The aim is to insure compliance with clauses already existing prohibiting job discriminations because of "race, creed, color or national origin."

The committee, to be named soon, will handle generally many of the same problems involving alleged discrimination against minority groups as were handled during the second World war by the controversial fair employment practices commission.

Probers Debating Revision for Law On Political Cash

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—Senate investigators, convinced that campaign spending limits have become "meaningless," set out today to give election laws a face-lifting.

A senate elections subcommittee turned from a week of intensive hearings on the 1950 Ohio senatorial race to the task of drafting improvements for the federal corrupt practices act. Campaign spending limitations of that law have not been changed since 1925.

No further hearings were scheduled for the present on the Ohio election in which Sen. Robert A. Taft swamped Democratic State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson by more than 400,000 votes. Subcommittee members indicated there would be no more hearings on the hotly-contested elections unless they decide to look further into contributions of Cleveland Financer Syrus S. Eaton and his associates.

Testimony during the final hearings Saturday indicated that Eaton, his son, Cryus, jr., and employes at Otis and company, in which Eaton is the major stockholder, contributed $35,000 to the political arm of the United Mine Workers during the 1950 campaign.

Red Envoys Make Surprise Revision In Truce Demand

MUNSAN, Korea, Dec. 3 (AP)—Communist truce negotiators today proposed behind the lines inspection by neutral observers and a "complete freeze" on troops and arms in Korea, possibly paving the way for agreement on another step toward an armistice.

The move appeared to be a major concession on the part of the reds. In the past they have refused adamantly to allow observers behind their lines and have insisted on the right to build up their armed strength while an armistice is in force.

The surprise compromise plan immediately drew from allied envoys more than a score of searching questions.

$64 Question

The big one—an allied spokesman called it the $64 question—was what neutral nations do the communists have in mind to police the truce?

The communists said they would answer 21 questions posed by the U.N. command when the negotiators meet in Panmunjom at 11 a.m. Tuesday (7 p.m. Monday MST).

The offer to permit inspection teams behind communist lines was the reds' biggest concession, even though they stipulated that any such inspection should be limited to "mutually agreed upon ports of entry."

Ended Deadlock

The reds sprang their surprise proposal at an afternoon session. At Monday's morning meeting the two sides appeared deadlocked in the problem of supervising an armistice.

The "$64 question"—which nations the communists consider neutral—might prove a major stumbling block.

Among countries officially neutral in the Korean war are such Russian satellites as Czechoslovakia, Poland and the Balkan nations—not to mention the Soviet union itself.

Most Participate

On the other hand, there are relatively few western countries which have not participated directly in the war or supported the allies through votes in the United Nations.

If the negotiators could agree on inspections behind the lines and a ban on either side building up its armed strength presumably the way would [illegible] settlement of [illegible] three—supervision of the truce.

Then the delegates could move on to the next big problem—reaching agreement on how to exchange prisoners of war.

American Jets Score Sweeping Air Victory

SEOUL, Korea, Dec. 3 (AP)—American Sabrejets, outnumbered four to one, scored a sweeping victory Sunday in the mounting battle for aerial supremacy over Korea.

The far east air forces reported five red MIG jets were shot down and three damaged without loss of any Sabres.

Allied and communist jets tangled in two brief air scraps high over northern Korea Monday. The fifth air force said two communist MIGs were damaged and all allied planes returned safely.

It was the eighth day of jet combat.

Less Eager

U. N. pilots said the red fliers were far less eager to fight Monday than on previous days.

The air force said 684 sorties had been flown up to 6 p. m. Monday.

The U. S. eighth army said the reds had 44,700 casualties in November—about 30,290 killed, 13,480 wounded and 966 captured.

The calm along the Korean ground front remained unbroken Monday. The eighth army reported no significant action up to noon. There were a few light contacts on the central and eastern fronts.

A low cloud blanket cut down aerial strikes after Sunday's jet victory.

47 Against 175

Forty-seven F-86 Sabrejets took on 175 MIGs in that battle between Sinanju and the North Korean capital, Pyongyang.

All told, allied planes flew 965 sorties Sunday against air and ground targets. B-29 Superforts blasted six communist railyards.

The republic of Korea (ROK) said Monday its forces are closing in on some 5,000 communists deep in South Korea. ROK troops are using planes, loudspeakers, propaganda leaflets and mine detectors to locate hidden arms caches. The reds are all that remain of some 100,00 long ago cut off by U. N. advances northward.

Reds Declare They Capture 2 Korea Isles

EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Dec. 3 (UP)—The communists asserted tonight they had captured two allied-held islands off the far northwest coast of North Korea.

The claim was made while negotiators of the United Nations command were offering in truce talks to trade all allied-held islands north of the tentative cease-fire line in return for adequate concessions by the reds.

Close to Manchuria

North Korea's Pyongyang radio, in a Korean language broadcast, said North Korean troops captured the islands of Taehwa and Yo-I about 50 miles south of the mouth of the Yalu river which is the boundary between Korea and Chinese Manchuria.

The broadcast said 400 South Koreans "and Americans" were killed or wounded and three allied ships captured.

The islands were captured by the allies Nov. 2 in an amphibious attack.

U.N. Position Strafed

During the day Monday, an unidentified plane bombed and strafed U. S. third infantry troops on the western front.

The attack was the first in daylight on U.N. front line positions in recent months. But there was some doubt in the minds of air force experts whether the plane was communist or was a U.N. plane which made the attack by mistake. An investigation of bomb and shell fragments found on the spot was ordered.

Shortages for Goods Due in Defense Gain

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—The nation's defense program, said to be expanding at the rate of $1,000,000,000 a month, probably will result soon in shortages of such durable consumer goods as automobiles and refrigerators.

This picture came yesterday from Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson and his assistant, Charles B. Stauffacher.

"In some goods the pinch is already beginning to be felt," Stauffacher said in a radio interview. "The present quarter and the first two quarters of 1952 will find us straining our economy to the utmost. The crucial period ahead will call for some sacrifices and forbearance from all of us."

Peak in 2 Years

He predicted military production will reach a peak within two years and that thereafter civilian production could resume its normal upward climb."

Wilson talked with newsmen at Key West, Fla., where he spent parts of two days briefing President Truman on progress of the defense production program. He said the President seemed pleased.

Wilson took the occasion to reply to recent criticism by the senate armed services subcommittee on preparedness, headed by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, D., Tex. In a report last week, the subcommittee said production of defense items is lagging dangerously. It recommended that a bigger bite be taken out of the civilian economy. Wilson said:

Not Harmed

"We have not this year allotted any appreciable quantities of material or tools to civilian production that we needed or could have advantageously used for military production . . .

"Generally speaking, we are on the right track in the dual job of getting current production while substantially widening the base for future military production—to be ready, in case of emergency, if we have to go all out."

Search Pressed For 2 Reported Missing on Hunt

ASHTON, Dec. 3 (UP)—Ground search parties were expected to be joined by two planes today in the hunt for Mackay high school youths Keith Gray and Donald Prather, missing on an elk hunt north of here.

The boys started hunting Saturday in the Hatchery ford area, about 18 miles north of Ashton. They had been elk-hunting with James Reed, 35, Mackay, who notified the Fremont county sheriff's office that the two were missing.

Gray and Prather did not have webs or skis, according to Reed. Fremont County Sheriff Guy Hill said there was three feet of snow in the area, with a new 10-inch fall last night. The boys had no food with them but they were said to have matches and plenty of ammunition.

West Nations Trying to Get Russian View

PARIS, Dec. 3 (AP)—The western powers tried to pin down Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky today on whether Russia would agree that the prohibition of atomic weapons and the start of international atomic control could become effective simultaneously. They got no answer.

Following a secret two and a half hour disarmament discussion among the big four — Russia, Britain, France and the United States—a western spokesman said U.S. Delegate Philip C. Jessup asked Vishinsky:

"Would the Soviet union admit inspectors the very day after the United Nations general assembly passed a resolution on prohibition?"

Vishinsky did not reply, Jessup said.

The west always has maintained that there can be no unconditional prohibition of the atomic weapon without a fool-proof international inspection system to guarantee obedience. Russia demands immediate prohibition of the bomb and then a discussion of controls.

Despite this stumbling bloc, western sources describing the meeting held under the chairmanship of U.N. Assembly President Luis Padilla Nervo, Mexico, as "helpful" and held in a "sober and constructive atmosphere."

3 Facing Charges On Spud Shipping

BOISE, Dec. 3 (AP)—Informations charging three Idaho potato shippers with violating agricultural marketing agreements were on file in U. S. district court today.

A. Harold Davidson, Marsing, was accused of shipping 461 100-pound bags of potatoes to Wyoming, Illinois and Iowa in July, 1950, "in violation of quality and maturity requirements."

E. Vance Walker, Burley, and Horace A. Knight, Plain City, Utah, were accused of shipping to Utah last February 130 bags of potatoes which had not been inspected.

The informations were signed by U. S. District Attorney John A. Carver.

9 Reported Killed as Bomber Hits Houses in Denver Suburb

DENVER, Dec. 3 (UP)—An air force B-29 on a routine training flight crashed into a row of houses in an east Denver residential section while making a landing approach today, killing at least nine crew members and injuring seven other persons, one of them a civilian.

Five of the injured, at least two of them believed to be in a critical condition, were crew members or airmen students aboard the gunnery training plane.

The sixth injured was a maid in one of the houses. An eighth injured was a city fireman burned while fighting the fire which broke out after the crash.

Police, firemen and airmen rescue workers were still going through the wreckage of the plane and five residences it smashed an hour and a half after the accident.

They had been unable to discover any other casualties.

All of the injured airmen except one were taken to the Lowry base hospital. The sixth airman, the maid and the fireman were taken to Denver general hospital.

Police at first had reported that five dead had been removed from the plane.

Only the injured were recovered from the wreckage of the plane and houses.

An air force spokesman, Capt. James P. Marquis, Lowry public information officer, said the other nine crew members were presumed to have perished in the flaming wreckage of the plane.

$500 Counted Here for Sale Of Yule Seals

More than $500 has been received from the sale of Christmas seals in Twin Falls, Mrs. J. O. Pumphrey, local chairman, announced Monday. Receipts so far are from mail solicitations.

Mrs. Pumphrey said the last of the envelopes were sent out to Twin Falls residents Nov. 28. Receipts from other cities and villages in the county and school sales are not expected until nearly Christmas. So far, the receipts are about the same as last year.

The sale of Christmas seals dates back to 1907 when three Wilmington, Del., doctors, pioneering with a tuberculosis shack, needed $300 to continue their treatment of eight charity patients.

The doctors turned to a civic-minded woman, Emily Bissell, who recalled a Jacob Riis story on the sale of seals to raise money for needy children in his native Denmark. She designed the first stamp, two women friends contributed $20 each and a printer agreed to produce 50,000 stamps and wait for his payment.

Public reaction was too slow, and Miss Bissell turned to the North American, a Philadelphia newspaper. Aided by a public-spirited columnist for the newspaper, Leigh Mitchell Hodges, the drive was supported and $3,000 was raised. The group had hoped for $300.

The Christmas seal, termed "the biggest little thing in the world" by the National Tuberculosis association, is considered big because it aids the fight against one of the biggest killers of all time. According to the figures of the association, tuberculosis kills at the rate of one person every 13 minutes, 100 persons daily and 700 persons weekly. In addition, there is the long period of confinement before a cure.

The sale of seals, according to the association, helps relieve financial worries and burdens on families who would otherwise be forced to gain other public support. Ninety-six per cent of the tuberculosis patients cannot pay for their treatment.

Auto Is Damaged By Blaze Sunday

A 1948 Ford tudor owned by Mrs. Loretta McClean was damaged extensively by fire about 9:07 a. m. Sunday as Mrs. McClean was entering the driveway at Magic Valley Memorial hospital.

Alcohol boiling out of the radiator was believed to have spilled onto the hot motor. The fire started around the motor, and firemen said the radiator, windshield, window, tire, paint on the hood, wires and hosing were damaged.

At 3:20 a. m. Sunday firemen were called to the Union Pacific railroad yards where spontaneous combustion was blamed for a fire which started in a carload of coal. About three feet of coal was burned but the steel car was not damaged.

Ransom Racket of Reds Is Smashed

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3 (UP)—Chinese-American leaders and U. S. treasury officials believed today the Chinese communist ransom racket has been smashed.

"Ransom demands continue to arrive daily, but no one is paying now," said Lee Dai-ming, editor of the newspaper Chinese World.

Elting Arnold, chief of the treasury's foreign assets control division, said the government now expects ransom payments "to be reduced to a negligible sum."

Arnold said the government cannot prevent the Chinese communists from imprisoning and executing Chinese whose relatives in the United States and other countries refuse to submit to the reds' extortion demands.

Other entrants included Jimmy Silva, Robert Tanaka, Antonia Velazkez, Cherril Aneida, Verna Dean Carter, David Oneida, Allen Thorne, Wayne Conner, Patty Morgan, Alicia Wayne Conner, atty Morgan, Alicia Leto, Leo Braun, Naomi Ineas, Joana Barney, Janet Peck, Irene Tanaka, Mary Lou Peck, Alice Sorenson, Neola Brookbank, Joana Baer, Vivian Moore and students from the sixth grade Tonettes.

E. J. Baer was master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Holloway Is Claimed by Death

Mrs. Dora Alice Holloway, 56, died at 6:15 a.m. Sunday at her home after a lingering illness. She came here in 1914 from Kansas.

Born Dec. 30, 1894, in Woodward, Okla., she was married to E. E. Holloway Jan. 1, 1914, in Argonia, Kans. She was a member of the Presbyterian church.

Survivors include her husband, Twin Falls; three sons, Irvin Holloway, Indio, Calif.; Paul Holloway, Jerome, and Edward Holloway, Hermiston, Ore.; three daughters, Mrs. Jean Matthews, Twin Falls; Mrs. Mary Edwards, and Mrs. Charlotte Childers, both Jerome; and 12 grandchildren. A son preceded her in death in 1925.

Funeral services will b held at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday at the White mortuary chapel. The Rev. Donald B. Blackstone will officiate.

Burial will be made in Sunset Memorial park.

Payment of $280 Sought in Court

A civil action to collect $280.28, $60 for attorney fees and costs from Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kasinger was started in probate court Monday by the C. C. Anderson company, Buhl.

The complaint alleges $10.28 is due on a $110.28 sales contract which Kasinger delivered to the company at Buhl. It alleges he was to pay $10.28 monthly from Sept. 1, 1951, until July 1, 1952, but paid only $10. It says the contract provided for attorney fees and costs if court action were necessary.

In a second cause for action, the company is attempting to collect $180 for a similar contract delivered by Mrs. Kasinger. The complaint claims she failed to make any of the $31.82 payments slated to start Sept. 27.

be open to the public and is expected to draw fire from some of Buhl's prominent businessmen who feel that strict enforcement of traffic laws is hurting business.

On the other hand Burns contends that protection of life and property is more important than the few dollars taken from violators and adds that no second offenders have been hauled into traffic court since the stringent policy was put into effect.

The chief, whose program of strict law enforcement has the backing of the Ministrial association, says he does not care to remain in Buhl unless the citizens are behind him in his attempt to make Buhl a better and safer place in which to live.

Two weeks ago the chief had an offer from another Idaho city at almost twice the salary he is being paid in Buhl but he turned it down because of the work he feels must be done in Buhl, he said.

With the juvenile delinquency problem in neighboring communities becoming increasingly serious, the chief feels that enforcing ordinances preventing minors from going into establishments selling beer may be a preventive measure in combating similar delinquency problems.

Many of the unsolved burglaries in Buhl, he said, are attributed to the juvenile element.

Events Planned By Den Leaders

Den leaders of Cub Scout pack No. 69 met Friday night at the home of Mrs. Richard High to plan for the Dec. 21 combined Christmas party and pack meeting. The pact is sponsored by the First Baptist church.

Mothers of two Cub Scouts from each den will be asked to direct and assist with refreshments. Joseph Dodson, cubmaster, will present awards.

Mrs. Richard High's den No. 6 will conduct the opening ceremony. Den No. 2 will present the program. Mrs. Clair Mathers is den mother of No. 2.

Mrs. Wilda Haggardt will supervise den No. 4 which will conduct the closing ceremonies. Den No. 4, in charge of Mrs. Joseph Marshall, is the service den.

All parents are urged to attend. Brothers and sisters of den members are especially invited as Santa Claus will hand out treats.

The next den leaders' meeting will be held Jan. 9 with Mrs. Marshall.

85 Blood Donors Are Needed Here

At least 85 more donors are needed to meet a quota of 200 pints of blood to be flown to wounded servicemen in Korea from the Red Cross bloodmobile, according to Mrs. Ruby Connelley, executive secretary of the local Red Cross chapter.

The bloodmobile will be here Dec. 18 and facilities will be set up in the American Legion hall. The unit will be in operation continuously from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and later if needed to accommodate more donors.

Persons wishing to donate blood under the armed forces blood donor program handled by the Red Cross may register by telephoning 101, the Red Cross office. Appointments for Dec. 18 will be made later.

Boy, 16, Held on Morals Charges

A 16-year-old boy who was hired by a Twin Falls mother to care for her two children is being held in the city jail pending arraignment in justice court on a charge of lewd conduct with a minor child.

The youth is alleged to have abused the woman's 5½-year-old daughter in a bedroom at the child's home about 2 p.m. Saturday. He asked the child not to tell her mother of the incident.

The child was not harmed physically.

The charge is a felony and will be handled in the same manner as an adult facing a felony charge, according to Max G. Lloyd, prosecuting attorney.

PTA for Hansen Holds 'Fun Night'

HANSEN, Dec. 3—"Fun Night" was the theme for the Hansen PTA meeting Friday evening in the school auditorium. Folowing the business meeting Chairman Ted Crockett introduced Supt. W. W. Godfrey who spoke on the educational system.

3 Blasts Stir Racial Strife

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 3 (AP)—Three explosions rocked a Negro housing project and a synagogue here yesterday, causing a near riot by Negroes and bringing angry demands for police action by Jewish leaders.

Police said a crude dynamite bomb was thrown from a passing car, shattering expensive window panes at the Miami Hebrew school of congregation. A second blast did no harm.

A third bomb was set off near Carver village, an unoccupied Negro apartment project near a white residential section, but police could not learn the exact location of the explosion and said apparently no damage was done.

It was the third such incident at the disputed housing propect, and an angry mob of some 400 to 500 Negroes gathered quickly in a roped-off area, where two previous blasts caused damage estimated by police at $20,000.

"One spark would have set off an explosion of that mob," said Police Sgt. H. V. Willis. "There might have been bloodshed."

The milling Negroes surrounded the first police car to reach the scene, and forced officers to give up two "agitators" they had arrested. Ten cars of city policemen and several county and suburban police cars were rushed to the area.

Choice

HAMMOND, Ind., Dec. 3 (AP)—A proud Polish woman who admitted burning her home because she would rather be homeless than hungry was in the Lake county home today.

Fire Chief Del Sargent said the woman, Mrs. Theresa Meda, 71, told him she set fire to the house Saturday after being without food and fuel for a week. She said she and her husband, Andrew, 68, has been refused public welfare because they were property owners.

Firemen found the Medas sitting in a woodshed, surrounded by bedding and a few heirlooms, watching the fire.

Sargent said they were "too proud" to try to qualify for an old-age pension by giving up title to the house. He said Mrs. Meda told him she tarted the fire "because you can't eat a house."

SHOSHONE, Dec. 3—Joseph Fisher, Sun Valley, was fined $10 and $6.10 costs Thursday by Justice of Peace Frank Dice on a charge of hunting and trespassing on land belonging to C. J. Connell, Shoshone. The complaint was signed by Connell on Nov. 16.

Youths Sign; Navy Reports Quota System

Enlistment of four Magic Valley youths in the navy and a limitation upon the number of enlistments were announced Monday by recruiters here.

Orin Keith Cardin, 17, 158 Main avenue north, and Robert Dale Campbell, 17, route 1, Shoshone, joined the navy under minority enlistments. Cardin is the son of Mrs. Ohna Lou Cardin, and Campbell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Campbell.

Enlisting for four years were John David Stevens, 22, 1849 Maple avenue, husband of Mrs. Zelda Mae Stevens, and Gail Parke, jr., 18, son of Mrs. and Mrs. Gail E. Parke, Carey.

All were sent to San Diego for their recruit training. Upon completion of his recruit training, Parks will be sent to one of the navy's seven electronics schools.

Recruiters also announced they are operating under a limited quota again for the first time in several months. Their December quota is eight but they will be allowed to send more to Salt Lake City until the quota is filled.

The recruiters suggest selective service registrants who have had their pre-induction physical examinations, who have not been called for induction and who wish to join the navy make their applications early.

Five of the eight December enlistments have been made and recruiters expect to be cut off from before the Christmas holidays until after Jan. 1. The recruiters were cut off the last four days of November.

Distribution of Estate Decreed

A decree of distribution was filed with the county recorder Monday for the estate of Hans Rial Owens by the widow, Mrs. Lucy Frances Owens, Twin Falls. The decree declares the estate community property.

Mr. Owens died in Bonneville county Aug. 3, 1950. His estate includes four lots in Terrace Park Place, Twin Falls, a 1940 Hudson, household goods and a 125-foot frontage on highway 191 in Bonneville county.

Attorney for Mrs. Owens is William J. Langley.

Burley Woman Is Injured in Mishap

AMERICAN FALLS, Dec. 3—Mrs. Emma Shaw, 60, Burley, is in the American Falls hospital in "satisfactory" condition as a result of an accident at 5 p.m. Sunday one and one-half miles west of American Falls on U.S. highway 30.

Mrs. Shaw was a passenger in an automobile driven by her daughter, Mrs. Eva McBride, Burley. Sheriff W. J. Hoshmen said the automobile slid on some ice in the road and overturned in the ditch.

Powerless Power County Seat Doesn't Like Its 17-Hour Loss

AMERICAN FALLS, Dec. 3 — Residents of American Falls area didn't know how much they depend on electricity until they didn't have any Sunday.

An electrical storm knocked the electricity out at 2 a.m. and it was 7 p.m. before it was restored completely. Farmers who had not milked by hand for years went back to the old system—and didn't like it. One farmer said he had slowed down by more than 50 per cent.

Another farmer, one with a lot of chickens, reported that his hens were affected by the power shortage. The biddies had been in the habit of getting up when lights were turned on automatically in their coop. With the power off they overslept by two hours and didn't get all their laying done.

Several farmers had to go without breakfast because there was no electricity to run their stoves and some of them didn't even get their morning coffee because all they had in their homes were electric percolators.

But the farmer who resented the power interruption most of all was the one sleeping under an electric blanket. With the power off the blanket wasn't very warm and all the other quilts in the house were stored.

Van Fleet Scans Drive on Rebels

NAMWON, Korea, Dec. 3 (UP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the eighth army, came to this southwest Korean town today to observe a South Korean army offensive against a group of the 8,000 communist guerrillas operating behind U. N. lines.

South Koreans troops under Maj.-Gen. Paik Sun Yup began "operation rathole" against guerrillas infesting the Chiri mountains Sunday with simultaneous attacks from north and south in an encirclement attempt.

The Korean command reported South Korean troops already have killed 24 guerrillas in the foothills and Mustang fighter planes supporting the operation had killed 22 more. Six women and eight children attached to the guerrilla army were captured in mountain caves.

Ruling Clarifies Policy on Bonus

DENVER, Dec. 3. (AP)—The wage stabilization board says an employer may pay any of his employes a Christmas or year-end bonus not exceeding $40 in value without board approval.

Such bonuses are allowed, the board says, under an amendment to general wage regulation 14.

Previously the regulation permitted employers to continue giving bonuses but made no provision for an employer who wanted to pay a bonus for the first time.

Under the amendment the bonus may be in cash or in the form of a gift but may not have a value of more than $40.

The board says if a bonus exceeded $40 last year, the employer may give the same amount this year subject to regulation 14.

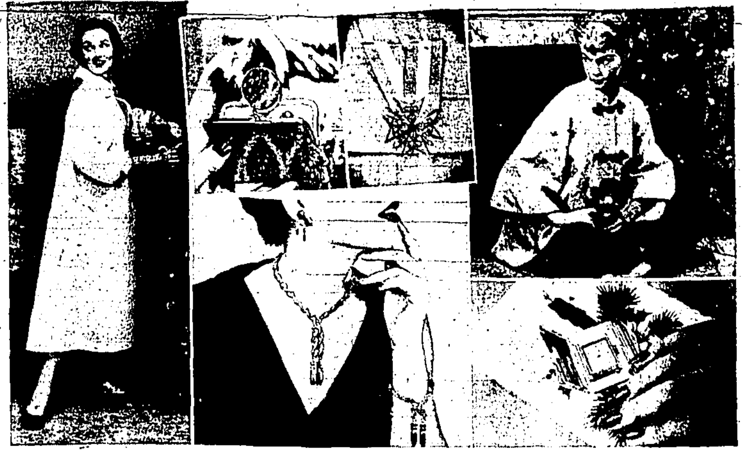
Wise Ways on Gifts for Gals



These Christmas gifts for her look glamorous, are practical from a woman's point of view.—Robe (left) is budget-priced bemberg quilted crepe. Tiny evening purse (upper center) in bemberg brocade has own matching compact and lipstick and a small price. Maltese cross (upper center) is studded with colorful cabachons, is worn at the hipline. Necklace and bracelet (lower center) are in far-eastern mood of design. Black velvet lounging pajamas (upper right) have pink brocade coolie coat. Men Shoppers Given Hints on How to Pick Gifts for Women

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer

Even during the Christmas season, there are rules about shopping. But it's the women who know them, not the men.

Men are abashed about shopping for women. They take the first large, economy size bottle of French perfume or the first black lace lingerie the salesgirl shoves at them. They know there must be something around in the stores that women like. But what, they can't imagine.

They need help. They need to know how to pick things that women won't exchange on Dec. 26 and they need to consider their wallets when they shop.

Costume jewelry is a good place to start. A handsome Maltese cross, for instance, looks expensive pinned at the hipline of a suit. But it costs little.

The same thing can be said for necklace, earrings and bracelet in twisted gold, tipped with oriental spikes. And it holds true for a watch that flips shut like an envelope, slips readily into a handbag. It can double as a watch on a bedside table because it can stand upright.

Brunch coats and lounging pajamas are popular as Christmas gifts and with good reason. They're priced as reasonably as you like and they're the kind of gift any woman loves but hesitates to buy for herself.

Lounging pajamas in black velvet bemberg topped by a pink brocade coolie coat with tremendous sleeves are pretty and inexpensive. Mandarin collar, sleeves and jacket bottom are edged in violet.

A brunch coat would look equally nice in a big white box under the tree on Christmas morning. Pick one that's washable, in a pale yellow quilted bemberg crepe. Lovely at breakfast on Christmas day and for many days thereafter.

One of the many small gifts that looks luxurious and is priced for pennies is a tiny evening purse in rich pastel bemberg brocade. It comes equipped with matching compact and lipstick.

The French purse in metallic bemberg brocade is a wonderful and deceptive gift; deceptive because it looks so trim and flat and actually holds so much. Inexpensive, too, though it has a costly look.

These are just starters. There are also checkbook covers in twisted gold yarns or in velvet studded with rhinestone crowns. There are glasses and comb cases in beaded velvets. Or satin belts alight with iridescent bugle beads.

For the older woman, try a spray of red velvet rosebuds on navy satin stems or black velvet roses with rhinestone dewdrops shining on the petals. Or she might like an engagement book or shopping list case in lovely silk brocade. All of these are gifts any woman would love to own and none of them are costly.

Study Scheduled On Use of Grant

BOISE, Dec. 3 (P)—A special committee was charged by the Idaho School Administrators' association today with determining how the state can participate in the Kellogg foundation grant of $260,000 for a Pacific northwest program to train school administrators.

The committee was appointed Saturday when the association held a one-day meeting here.

The group named Harold Farley, superintendent of Lewis county schools, as its secretary. Kenneth Dean, Bonner county school superintendent, was appointed to the executive committee.

'Yardstick' Eyed For Slash Ruling

MOSCOW, Dec. 3 (U.P.)—A University of Idaho specialist is trying to develop a "yardstick" which can be used both in north and south Idaho forests in planning slash disposal, it was announced today.

Dave S. Olson, research silviculturist at the university's forest, wildlife and range experiment station, has gathered information during the past two years on Idaho's white pine forests, mostly in the north.

During the coming summer he will devote much of his time to study of logging slash in the ponderosa pine forests in the southern part.

Moulton Asks Aid On Airports Data

BOISE, Dec. 3 (P)—State Aeronautics Director Chet Moulton has asked airport operators and others to cooperate again in the winter-long program of reports on Idaho flying field snow conditions.

He said his department will begin issuing condition reports on a semi-monthly basis until next spring. He asked aviation operators to notify his office by collect telephone or wire whenever an airport is closed or made hazardous by weather or other conditions.

For more than 300 years European nations fought Arctic warfare over the wealth of Spitzbergen, jagged islands off Norway's coast.

2 Code Proposals Gain Parley Okay

Two proposals for state safety codes submitted to the governors safety conference by the Idaho State Pipe Trades association received approval of the conference.

Delegates to the semi-annual meeting of the association here yesterday were advised of the safety conference action. One proposal urged a state plumbing code and the other advised a state steam boiler code.

About 25 delegates from Boise, Pocatello, Idaho Falls and Twin Falls attended the association meeting. It was climaxed with a dinner at Wray's cafe, sponsored by members of the Twin Falls Plumbers and Steamfitters union, local 701.

Next meeting will be held at Idaho Falls March 1 and 2.

Fads, Foibles Arrive; Depart Fast in First Half of Century

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, Dec. 3 (P)—The 20th century has certainly been tough on a lot of things.

It already has sent more fads, fashions, gadgets, ideas and ways of life down the drain than perhaps any other similar period in history.

Hal Boyle

The century is but slightly more than half over, yet its casualty toll has been terrific. No one can foresee what will be chopped down during the rest of the century. It is a real test of durability today merely to continue to survive. But here are a few items already gone or going since grandma rolled a hoop:

The bustle, handlebar moustaches and the moustache cup . . . the two-bit haircut and the 5-cent glass of beer . . . the free lunch, the nickel hotdog and most penny candy . . .

The rage for cubeb cigarettes . . . sassafras tea and sulphur and molasses spring tonic . . . the belief that vitamins will take the place of real food or eight hours of sleep a night . . . the popularity of the airedale dog . . .

Horses and all the things they used to pull . . . trolleys . . . isinglass side curtains on open motor cars . . . automobile fenders . . brass acetylene headlamps . . . linen dusters and goggles . . . the celluloid collar and sleeveholders . . .

The foot-powered player piano . . . the phonograph with the horn on it . . . minstrel shows and miniature golf courses . . . knickers and covered bridges . . . radio headphones and the 5-cent telephone call (in some places) . . . rolled stockings and Empress Eugenie hats . . . the hatpin, once a maiden's best weapon against the old-fashioned masher . . .

Cuspidors and smelling salts (most ladies don't faint any more—they fight back) . . . the flapper and the cake-eater . . . bell-bottomed trousers . . . the "turkey trot" and the "bunny hug" . . . silent movies and wet martinis . . . spiked beer and bathtub gin . . . "23 skidoo" and "oh, you kid." . . .

The brief blind trust in "every day in every way I'm getting better and better" . . . buggy whips and straight-edged razors . . . the whale-boned corset and high-buttoned shoes . . . the hobble skirt . . . dundreary whiskers and sideburns . . . the vest . . . little old ladies driving electric automobiles . . . cobblestone streets . . .

Red flannel underwear and the two-acre petticoat . . . spit curls . . . beauty spots . . . speakeasies . . . election eve torchlight parades . . . mah-jong-and-the ouija board . . . the lorngette and the "400" . . . champagne baths . . . human flies and flagpole sitters . . . marathon dances and taffy pulls . . . milk dippers and the cracker barrel . . .

Horatio Alger books . . . patent leather bowties . . . the honest kitchen match . . . gold toothpicks . . . sleeve garters and watchfobs . . . pogo sticks, homemade bread and cigar store Indians . . .

Quiet evenings at home . . . amateur sports . . . and big thick steaks . . .

Whew! What have we got left—besides televisions sets and congress?

CONFUSION AND CORRUPTION

Those millions of Americans who are fed up with the government throwing its weight around should derive no little delight in the knowledge that some of those federal agencies themselves are now on the hot seat.

Some, no doubt, will enjoy almost a fiendish satisfaction in knowing that the justice and internal revenue departments, particularly, are in trouble.

Those who have had much experience with internal revenue collectors, wages and hours officials and other government agents, know that too many of them assume the role of the gestapo—strutting around, issuing threats and making it a point of demonstrating their authority.

They know, too, that it has become a general policy of the internal revenue department to chisel, compromise, intimidate and anything else that will help to swell the government's coffers, instead of adhering strictly to a policy of determining tax disputes on a basis of right or wrong.

It is all too apparent that the department operates on the premise that all taxpayers are crooks. That this attitude prevails is borne out by the fact that the taxpayer is seldom given the benefit of any doubt.

Although the revenue agents do not tell the taxpayers so in so many words, they make it apparent that he's at their mercy—that the government can better afford to go into court than can the individual with the cards stacked against him. And with that unfair advantage, these agents are always in a favorable position to "compromise."

Now it comes to light that some of the boys high in the internal revenue department, the department of justice, and other government agencies are not above chiseling, selling favors or indulging in the various other practices which have flourished under the present administration's loose code of ethics.

It demonstrates once more, to the public's utter disgust, that even in those departments which pretend to be untouchable, there are those who think they are privileged, and that federal laws, regulations and such apply only to the people and the over-burdened taxpayers they hound and harass.

They, like a lot of others in our present governmental set-up, pursue the policy that there's nothing wrong in all this two-bit chiseling and political corruption.

The only sin is in being caught.

WE HAVE TWO EMERGENCIES

Now that the governors of the Pacific northwest are giving serious consideration to some proposal by which the states themselves would take over development of the Columbia basin with private enterprise, it's interesting to see the government bureaucrats get into action.

Oscar Chapman, secretary of the interior, lost no time in trying to dowse any such proposals. In a speech at Portland, he called upon the people of the Pacific northwest to quit their wrangling over Columbia basin development. By that, of course, he had only one thing in mind—let the government take over completely.

"It is a national responsibility for us to make sure that vast resources like the Columbia river do not remain incompletely developed," he said, asserting that more northwest production is needed for rearmament now, and that the country will need the northwest's peace resources later.

"The critical question is what kind of shape we are going to be in after the present emergency has been met and passed," he said.

According to Mr. Chapman, there appears to be only one emergency—that having to do with the stalemated war in Korea.

But a lot of people are concerned about another emergency which they regard as equally serious, and that's the national administration itself, of which Mr. Chapman is an important part.

The administration's continued attempts to extend government controls, with all the corruption and confusion that have gone with this obvious drive for power, are one of the main reasons the governors of the Pacific northwest are suspicious of the government's motives in trying to control our water resources.

HOPE FOR UNITY

With Winston Churchill as prime minister of the United Kingdom, much closer British support for European unity is expected. The Labor government under Clement Attlee was really conservative on cooperation with continental Europe.

The Schuman plan for pooling of European coal, iron and steel resources was given distant approval, but not active participation by Attlee's foreign ministers. Churchill may work more closely with the Schuman planners. Churchill has been active in support of the western European unification movement which now has its headquarters set up at Stuttgart.

Churchill and General Eisenhower are known to think alike on the need for creating an European army. Churchill and Eisenhower were close collaborators during World war II. An early meeting between these two leaders to further European unification is now considered most likely.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—J. Harold McGrath is expected to resign as attorney general in the near future, and the man mentioned in administration circles as a likely successor is Sen. Estes Kefauver, assuming that the senate's crime chaser will accept the office. The promotion might place him in line for his supposed ambition, a vice presidential nomination next year.

Ray Tucker

The proposed shift has many advantages from President Truman's standpoint. Although he is extremely fond of McGrath, a former senate crony and Democratic national chairman, the tax scandals involving former assistant Atty-Gen. T. Lamar Caudle inevitably reflect on the head of the department. Mr. Truman had to fire Caudle bcause of his questionable "outside activities."

• • •

FAVORITISM—There have also been charges that the attorney general, or somebody responsible to him, tried to block grand jury investigations of internal revenue collectors subsequently indicted.

It is understood that a study of files in the tax division, which Caudle headed before his dismissal, will show favoritism toward political friends and favorites of the administration.

Rep. Cecil King, the California Democrat heading the committee investigating Internal Revenue, asked President Truman several weeks ago to let his group examine files where he suspects that the attorney general dragged his feet in prosecution.

Although they may have changed their minds by the time this article is published, both Mr. Truman and McGrath did not take kindly to the King request.

• • •

"CORRUPTION"—A McGrath resignation resulting from his alleged failure to prosecute tax defaulters would have many ironic aspects, especially if he should be succeeded by Senator Kefauver. As a practicing politician, the Rhode Island man never was sympathetic to the Kefauver-Halley investigation. He even had been accused of trying to sidetrack it.

In fact, President Truman himself was not too enthusiastic about the Kefauver proceedings. The White House believes the crime committee's revelations largely were responsible for the defeat of many prominent Democrats in last year's congressional contests, including former Senate Majority Leader Scott W. Lucas, Illinois.

Just as he once referred to the Fulbright exposure of RFC speculations as "asinine," so Mr. Truman originally thought the Kefauver disclosures of the alliance between politicians and criminals in New York, Missouri, New Jersey, Florida and Illinois were overdrawn

But he realizes now they have given his political enemies a potent issue for the 1952 campaign—namely, "corruption." The Nov. 6 election returns proved that.

• • •

CHOICE—In the opinion of many shrewd Democratic politicians, President Truman can spike that issue by naming Senator Kefauver to the attorney generalship, and thus making him more eligible for the vice presidential spot on a ticket topped by Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson, Kentucky.

Such a combination might set the GOP on its heels insofar as making political hay out of corruption charges is concerned.

Despite official denials, the chief justice is Mr. Truman's choice for the presidential nomination if he decides not to run again. Principal proof is that there is not another figure on the Democratic horizon with sufficient stature for the honor. It was the subject of their talks during their Thanksgiving get-together at Key West.

Another consideration behind thoughts of a Vinson-Kefauver slate is the possibility that the naming of a Kentuckian and a Tennessean might minimize the threat of a southern revolt.

• • •

BOOTLEGGING—The increasing number of seizures of elaborate stills by federal and state authorities indicates that large-scale bootlegging has been resumed. It bears out warnings of the liquor trade that higher taxes on booze, which became effective Nov. 1, would profit nobody but the lawbreakers.

It is believed that illegal manufacture and sale of liquor are more extensive than the official figures show. Both the federal government and the states have reduced the number of revnue agents in recent years with a resulting letdown of enforcement.

Another sign of increased bootlegging activity is a falling-off in legitimate sales, despite the Thanksgiving holidays. Due to higher prices, customers are buying smaller amounts, and turning to the cheaper brands.

As a result, the anticipated tax revenues from this field will probably be much lower than Secretary Snyder's experts forecast in their testimony before congressional committees.

• • •

ANECDOTE—Gordon E. Dean, chairman of the atomic energy commission, is responsible for this anecdote:

Nevada Indians were sending smoke signals from hill to hill during a recent atomic test at Las Vegas. When a chief saw the terrific flash of atomic light, he grunted:

"Ugh! Wish I'd said that!"

VIEWS OF OTHERS

THE PROBLEM REMAINS

President Truman, after nearly a nine-month stalemate with Senator Pat McCarran's judiciary committee, has accepted the resignations of the distinguished citizens whom he had asked to serve with Fleet Admiral Chester N. Nimitz on a nonpartisan commission on internal security and individual rights.

We do not know whether the President bowed to pleas from members that they could no longer hold themselves in readiness, or whether, with the adjournment of congress, he saw no end to the deadlock. In any event, we regret even a temporary capitulation and urge with ever greater gravity the reconstituting of the commission with the same or other members of equal eminence.

There is, if anything, more need now than there was last January to solve the hard problem of how to guard the government against subversive infiltration and influence without seriously endangering the very liberties which Americans desire most to defend. It was for that purpose the Nimitz commission was established.

The whole question has been bogged down in an ugly morass of suspicion, fear, and half-information, made worse by political defensiveness and unscrupulous political opportunism. As Time magazine observes editorially:

The drowsy sentry is no worse sentry than the one who maliciously cries wolf . . . and keeps the camp in a state of alarm and confusion.

This newspaper warned long ago that the peril and the problem—as they affect both national security and individual liberty—transcend party lines, and long ago called for just such a top-level body as the Nimitz group to lift the issue out of the quicksand onto firm ground.

Disastrously—for the moment—Senator McCarran, the very man most responsible for blocking the Nimitz commission, heads also a subcommittee on internal security, which seems to be further fogging up security with little visible concern for individual rights. So the difficulty is compounded.

But congress is also responsible— for the power it invests in mere seniority (by virtue of which Senator McCarran hold his posts), and for its unwillingness to challenge even abuses of that power.—Christian Science Monitor.

A GRASS ROOT OPINION

The National Editorial association asked 319 editors of small daily and weekly newspapers across the land a question: What man in each of the parties is "best qualified" to be President? Last week NEA announced the results.

Harry Truman led the Democratic prospects with 64 votes. Right behind were Illinois' Senator Paul Douglas with 63, and Virginia's economy-minded Senator Harry Byrd, 62.

Ohio's Senator Robert A. Taft ran far ahead on the Republican side with 128 votes. Second among the Republicans: Dwight Eisenhower, 87.—Jerome North Side News.

POT SHOTS

LAST LAUGH

Say, Shooter:

We've been hearing a lot about speed on the highways of late, but the season is at hand when that speed at spots suddenly becomes drastically reduced.

T'other night while traveling U. S. 30S between Malta and Declo our little jalopy was passed like a 1903 Ford by a late-model car bearing Ada county plates. And it was going like a jet plane.

We got the last laugh, however, when we caught up with the speedster on the highway.

He'd found the going a little slick due to ice patches on the road.

Maybe that's the secret—keeping a little patch or so of ice every mile or so to keep people going at a safe and sane rate. What do you think?

"GIFT" SUGGESTIONS

Dear Pot Shots:

For several years you've been using my name in your "famous last line" without permission. What bothers me is that apparently those last lines refer directly to me and I don't see how anyone can guess that accurately.

So here's one from "Herbert." The wife was trying to figure out what we could get for the boy for Christmas. After many suggestions, I came up with the boxing gloves idea. "One pair would do," I added.

She looked thoughtful for a minute and then said, "Let's get two pairs of them. Then when he won't mind we can put on the gloves and fight it out."

WORDS STIR EMOTIONS

She burns toast. "Wake up," he bawls; both are unhappy. Neighbor's son breaks window. "He's destructive," owner scolds. "You're a crab," mother retorts; a spite fence goes up. A customer returns unsatisfactory merchandise. "This is falling apart," she claims. "You abused it," Merchant argues. She's unhappy, tells friends, he goes broke. Words are loaded with power.

He comes home. She greets him affectionately. "I've missed you." He hugs her. "Me too, he whispers with a kiss. The pot of love boils over. The telephone rings. Mother hears, "Long Distance calling," then the voice of her son, "Thinking about you—" Two old people sing with joy in their hearts. Serious illness. A life is in the balance. Eyelid flutters, opens. Faint smile. "Dad," is heard. Doctor says, "Crisis is past. She'll get well." Words can glow with warmth and love.

A political demogogue uses picture words. A thief uses sharp-edged command words. Anger uses searing, burning words. Love uses velvet words. Understanding uses handclasp words. Friendship uses magnet words. Which do you use?

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

LONDON—Some of our British friends have been baring their fangs at the parasites of bureaucracy, even as Senator Byrd back home. The Evening Standard, a tory paper run by Max Aitken, a character sweetly reminiscent of our own Billy Rose, recently discovered "waste" in the British embassy in Rome. The staff of the press agents' office had increased in numbers from three head before the war to 32 at present, and the payroll from 2,535 pounds to 30,066.

Westbrook Pegler

It is futile to try to translate pounds into dollars in these situations because if you insist that the pound is a half-price pound to relation to the dollar, you must then remind yourself that the dollar is worth a little less than 50 cents. This slows you up and you might strip your gears when you get to Paris, where the franc is so puny that the waiters now add a percentage to their tips which are charged on a percentage in the bill. The present publicity staff in Rome is only three head short of the entire embassy staff down to 1939 and the embassy staff is up from 35 to 164.

About the same time, the News-Chronicle got out a pencil and an old envelope and figured out that Uncle Sam had given "each of us Britons" 45 pounds, which would be at least 125 of our 50-cent dollars. There might have been an implied suggestion here that the bureaucracy ought to take in its belt or even take gas out of consideration for the glorious old United States of A. But these Britons are great ones to mask their feelings and I detect no mawkishness. The loyal opposition seem to hate bureaucratic waste for the same reason that Senator Byrd does. It supports a lot of leeches who try to justify their existence by bothering the citizens and, by cheapening the money more and more they run up the cost of dressing and arming a soldier to oppose the aggression of President Truman's old friend "Joe."

Winston Churchill announced that the cabinet ministers were cutting their official salaries by 20 per cent but, in view of his vast personal prosperity flowing from the by-products of his selfless service to the nation, and his business-like arrangements to provide for his progeny, this sacrifice was robbed of some effect. Mr. Aitken, who calls himself Lord Beaverbrook across the top of his Daily Express, insisted that if the same officials had cut the costs of their departments 10 per cent they could have wiped out the sales tax and reduced the income tax one-fifth.

One item which he seemed to resent more than others was 486,000 pounds for 654 psychologists and other such specialists to select new bureaucrats, but he had no praise for 585 government fly cops of both sexes employed in the characteristic socialist business of enticing and entrapping law-abiding Britons into criminal violations of the rationing acts. These 585 get 312,500 pounds a year.

Aitken has changed since the days when he was engineering the squandering of American money on extravagant gifts of American stuff to Stalin through lend-lease to keep Stalin in a mood to keep fighting for his life against Hitler. It isn't only the cost of this merchandise to the Americans whose taxes pay the price that matters now. The permanent equipment, the miles of cable made of irreplacable copper gnawed from the earth of Arizona, the magnificient railroad diesels and other machines are presumed to be aimed, as it were, against American and English soldiers on police duty in Korea. Averell Harriman, the supreme genius of that monumental infatuation, was back in England lately, wearing his albatross. Aitken had taken his to Nassau for a spot of sun. Harriman has been revolving around Europe again doing the same old thing, this time with that sterling Democrat, Marshal Tito.

The British have discovered nothing comparable to the White House pastel mink or the larcenies in internal revenue, but the socialists were pulling things relatively just as raw. Shortly after a gang of free-riders were thrown out of "official" automobiles in the city of New York, an official carpool of the British socialist bureaucracy became suddenly notorious in London. There were more than 5,000 cars in more or less daily use, some of them for the private errands of the wives and children of the parasites and even for their girls. The chauffeurs were forbidden to talk. That would have been snooping, which the socialists disapprove except by official provocateurs. They abhor smearing.

There came a weird prosecution against the Yorkshire electricity board, whose chairman got six months not for stealing or grafting but for permitting his bureau to spend more than the law allowed for improvements on the board's official headquarters. The lord chief justice thought this case so important that he picked it for himself and heard it through. Col. Wilfred Mark Lapper, who got six months, was exonerated of receiving "any personal advantage" and the upshot of it all was that one official body of the socialist bureaucracy was fined 20,000 pounds and nearly 10,000 pounds costs for defrauding the whole government of 41,000 pounds spent over the official authorized ceiling allowed for a certain purpose. The improvements included extravagant luxuries, but the worst personal dereliction against Lapper was neglect. Now the people pay the fine and costs into the public treasury for an offense by one bureau against the regulations of another. Let that be a lesson to the people.

Although the king, in law, can do no wrong, a royal bureau which does wrong in his name cannot invoke the royal immunity. It is like sending Truman to jail for six months and fining the White House $50,000 for letting someone exceed the authorized cost of renovating Joe Lash's room for posterity.

Youth Jailed for Not Paying Fine

JEROME, Dec. 3—James Kasinger, 18, Filer, is serving a 16½-day jail sentence here following his failure to pay a fine of $25 and $3 costs. Kasinger was charged with petty larceny in the theft of a tire, tube and wheel. The complaint was signed by Charles Thrall.

Probate Judge Theron Ward imposed the fine, stipulating that $5 of it be paid at noon each Sunday until full payment was made. When Kasinger failed to pay the fine a bench warrant was served and he now is confined to the county jail.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

To be held up before outsiders as a ridiculous figure, to be laughed at, is a painful experience for children of any age. A child's personality is as sensative as any grown-up person's is, more so, and to expose it to the laughter of the adults who happen along to be entertained is an offense children find it hard to forgive.

The mistakes children make are funny sometimes and they will laugh with their parents about them because the laughter is friendly and understanding, with no edge of criticism or sarcasm, no air of superiority about it. The laughter of strangers is a different matter. Children are likely to feel betrayed by those on whom they depend for sympathy and affection when those people use their mistakes, their peculiar ways, to amuse their guests. That sort of thing wounds the child's personality deeply and is likely to have unfortunate effects.

Memories cluster about associations. When a child is made happy he remembers all the circumstances: the persons present, the particular person who gave him a happy moment, the time, the place, all about it and his memory of the event will always be colored by these associated surroundings. Mention of one of them will bring back the whole picture and its accompanying emotions to renew his happiness.

The same thing happens when the child has been made unhappy. He will remember vividly the persons concerned, the time and the occasion and his hurt feeling. Any recall of the least one among those associations will bring back the whole group and the depressing emotions they stored in his mind.

Mature people have had such ex*periences, carry them with them* through life, so the yought to know what they are doing when they expose a child to the ridicule and laughter of others, and restrain themselves from any such error.

Dee's father and mother could not understand why he made a fuss about going to visit Aunt Ella, saying he did not want to go, had a stomach ache, didn't feel so well. "You feel all right when we are going to your grandmother's, though," said his annoyed mother. Dee said nothing.

Dee remembered something that happened when he was 3 years old, the day Aunt Ella told about his saving his chocolate bunny to give to his much-loved little girl playmate and about her eating it without as much as thank you, never offering to share it, and then going off with another little boy. He remembered how everybody laughed at him and how Aunt Ella said, "Unlucky in love, unlucky life," and pinched his ear. He hated the sound of her name ever after.

It is fine to laugh with children and youth but beware of laughing at them. It is dangerous.

Annoying habits in children should not be overlooked; they should be corrected. Dr. Patri gives his excellent advice on this problem in his booklet, No. 302, "Annoying Habits." To obtain a copy send 25 cents in coin to him, c/o Times-News, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

West Resort Owners Ask OK for Fees

SQUAW VALLEY, Placer County, Calif., Dec. 3 (AP)—Resort owners from 10 western states feel the United States forest service should charge for campground privileges and the money should be used for construction and mainenance of camping and picnic areas.

Members of the National Forest Recreation association took cognisance of the poor condition of campgrounds throughout the nation at their meeting here.

Congress would have to pass special legislation to enable the forest service to charge for the use of camps and to keep the money for construction and maintenance.

The association also urged that the forest service be permitted to keep 10 per cent of all its income for development of recreational facilities.

During the three-day session, Vernon Baird, Modesto, was elected association president. Next year's meeting will be at Lake Quinault, Wash.

Forest service and recreation operators from California, Washington, Oregon, Nevada, Arizona, Idaho, Wyoming, Montana, Utah and Colorado attended the third annual conclave.

Consumer Has Whip Hand in Windup of '51

NEW YORK, Dec. 3 (AP)—Business heads into the home stretch of 1951 with the consumer holding the whip hand.

Stubborn opposition to present prices is reported from several sections of the country. And the National Association of Credit Men say this reluctance at retail is causing "a significant reduction in the volume of future orders and commitments at non-defense manufuturing and wholesale levels."

Production Levels

Industrial production has levelled off—below last spring's high peak—the federal reserve board reports. Industries connected with the defense effort are gaining ground, the board says, but this is offset by further declines in non-durable manufacturers. The predicted fall boom hasn't made its appearance yet.

"Inflation continues to be a source of concern," says Guaranty Trust company, New York, in its December survey. "But it notes that Washington's cry of "Wolf!" along this line hasn't proved right as yet, and it adds:

No Big Change

"A growing belief, however, seems to be that, barring total war or a sudden change in consumer purchasing habits, there will be no drastic fluctuations in prices or serious shortages of most goods."

It's the consumer's purchasing habits that have most businessmen worried as trade and industry enters the final month.

There are many signs of reviving trade as Christmas shopping starts. But some businessmen thinks there is more wishful thinking than actual trade volume so far.

Kiwanis Leaders Advised to Work

LOGAN, Utah, Dec. 3 (AP)—Kiwanis officers of the Utah-Idaho district were urged to increase membership and growth of their local clubs.

Addressing a two-day leadership training school, Reed C. Culp, Salt Lake City, international trustee, said, "Kiwanis is built and must be built by local clubs. Only as long as you build the principles of Kiwanis will the organization's principles live."

Directors of the conference included William A. Hooper, Boise; Dr. Joseph W. Marshall, Twin Falls, and Edson H. Deal, Nampa, former district governors; Joseph Behling, Ogden, district secretary, and Al S. Gilbert, Boise, former lieutenant governor.

Dist.-Gov. Ira J. Huggins, Ogden, presided.

Head of State Is Named for Syria

DAMASCUS, Syria, Dec. 3 (AP)—Col. Adib Shishekly, Syria's "strong man," today proclaimed Col. Fawzi Silo as "head of state, premier and minister of defense," with both "legislative and executive powers."

Shishekly, who had declared himself supreme ruler of Syria yesterday, made known the proclamation in military orders.

He said Silo, former defense minister, would head Syria's sixth cabinet in the last seven months and would remain until "the restoration of normal parliamentary life."

Shishekly took over after the resignation of aged president Hachem Bey Attassi. Shishekly, who is Syria's army chief of staff, dissolved parliament and hinted that new elections would be held.

If it were not for the topsoil carried to its rich plains by the Nile river, Egypt might have been as desolate as the Sahara desert.

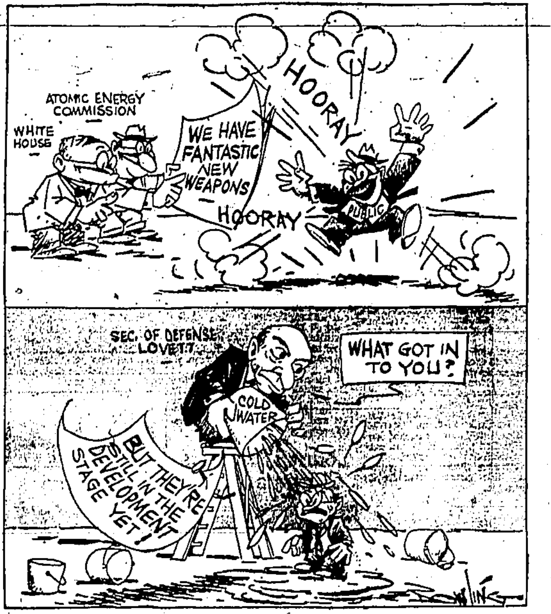
It's a Poor Heart That Never Rejoices



Hank's High on His Birthday Anniversary; Likes New Age

By HENRY McLEMORE

MEXICO CITY,—Don't you think a man should get high on his birthday? I mean real high?

I do, so I am.

Today's my birthday and here in Mexico City I am 7,434 feet high. That's far and away the highest I have ever been on my birthday, although I easily can round up hundreds of citizens who will give me a rousing argument as to the truth of that statement.

McLemore

This year I am not going to any how-old I am. I didn't mind admitting my age last year, because I was only 44. But no one is going to pry the truth out of me this time.

I like my new age, though. It has innumerable advantages, more than enough to offset the few disadvantages that go along with reaching my—oops! I was about to tell you.

Take when I go to the movies now. The first row is hardly ever crowded. It's not that I can see and hear any clearer way up front, but I find I can follow what's going on much better. I really feel sorry for those youngsters in their 30s who sit in the middle and back of the theater. They don't know what they're missing.

My present age is an economical age for a fellow. You'd be surprised how long a comb lasts me now. Younger men are forced to spend a fortune on combs, but not I. I'll bet you that with any care at all the comb I have now will last me the rest of my life. Of course, there is the danger of its falling apart from lack of exercise, but I'll give it a good workout occasionally by combing the cats, Bidey and Duffy, with it.

There is no end to the advantages I could tell you about being poised on the brink of decrepitude.

Insurance is one. It won't be long before I'll be paid up and the dear old insurance company will have to start scraping up some dough each month for me. I might as well tell them right this minute that they had better not get behind when my handsome pittance starts rolling in. I'll be right down there at that big building in New York, aiming to tan and switch those responsible.

I like the respect that comes with my being one who can almost remember torchlight parades and excited voters crying "Tippecanoe and Tyler, too." So help me, if a man with braid in his vest didn't call me "sir" yesterday. And when I go to football games I like to have the undergraduate ushers, one on each arm, help me up the steps to my seat. I like the way women stand when I enter a room now.

Too, there's nothing that feels quite so comfortable as shoes with elastic on the sides. I often wonder why I was foolish enough to wear all-leather shoes for so many years.

My figure has changed a bit, there's no denying, but who does not admire the redwood, let us say, more than the sapling? Have you ever seen a picture of men trying to reach around a sapling? No.

The only thing I don't like about this birthday is my cake. It has so many candles it looks a forest fire.

ROK's Plan Drive Against Guerrillas

SEOUL, Korea, Dec. 3 (Delayed by censor) (AP)—The South Korean government tonight announced the immediate start of an all-out drive against communist guerrillas in southwest Korea.

It said the drive would be the largest military campaign against the red bands since the start of the Korean war.

News of the campaign was printed by Seoul newspapers Saturday night.

Three mountainous provinces in the southwest were placed under martial law earlier today.

They have been infested and terrorized by the guerrilla bands since the breakup of the North Korean army last fall. The reds were bypassed in the allied drive to the north and many of them took to the hills.

Since then they have been a thorn in the side of South Korean civilians, the government and the United Nations war effort.

Pastor Expected

HANSEN, Dec. 3—The Rev. Albert Rostron is expected to arrive this week to take over his duties as pastor of the Hansen Community church. Dr. Rostron has been confined to an Ontario, Ore., hospital following a car accident in which he received a broken jaw, chest injuries and multiple bruises.

He had been pastor of the Methodist church at Fruitland, Ida., prior to his appointment at Hansen.

Marine Sergeant Assigned to T. F.

Sgt. William King has been assigned to Twin Falls to assist in the operation of the marine corps recruiting station here. He recently attended a recruiting school at Parris Island, S. C.

Sergeant King served in Korea with the fifth marine division from July 12, 1950, to March 5, 1951. During World war II he fought from island to island in the Pacific theater and was wounded while on Guam.

He and his wife are natives of Modesto, Calif. The sergeant attended Modesto Junior college and the University of Southern California. He has served in Alaska and at various places in the United States.

Senator Advises Okay of Project

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 3 (UP)—Sen. Arthur V. Watkins, R., Utah, urged Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman today to "approve the Echo Park dam project and stop the delays."

Watkins said he recalled that Chapman approved plans to build the dam in 1950 in the Dinosaur national monument in eastern Utah.

Watkins said "there must come a time when a firm decision can be made on the matter." Chapman previously wrote to the senator and said the "people of Utah will profit more if their water and power needs can be met without sacrificing the national monument."

Strong objection to the project has been voiced by natural history societies.

Body of Man Is Located in River

IDAHO FALLS, Dec. 3 (AP) — The body of a man identified as Kenneth L. Shaw was recovered Sunday morning from Snake river at the city's lower power plant by city police and county sheriff's officers.

The body was found lodged against the trash racks at the power plant.

Shaw had been reported missing several weeks ago, deputies said.

No inquest into the death is planned, according to Leo Williams, Bonneville county coroner.

"Ike" Reports His Thanks in Poll of Solons

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower replied with a non-committal "thank you" today to a poll showing that more than a fourth of the Republicans in the house favor him as their presidential candidate.

Eisenhower wrote Rep. W. Sterling Cole, R., N. Y., who conducted the poll, that he was "flattered" to hear the Republicans "feel that I have the necessary qualifications to fill the highest post in our country."

Ducks Question

But his brief letter continued to duck the question whether he will accept the bid to declare himself a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Cole, an Eisenhower booster, conducted the secret poll among his colleagues during August and September. Sen. Robert A. Taft, Ohio, an announced candidate, got 71 votes and Eisenhower got 54.

Praised in Letter

Although Eisenhower declined in advance to comment on the poll, Cole sent him the results along with a letter praising the general's role as head of the North Atlantic treaty defense forces.

"I would be less than human if I did not feel flattered to know that certain of your colleagues in the house feel that I have the necessary qualifications to fill the highest post in our country," Eisenhower wrote Cole.

Man Dragged by Trailer on Road

CASTLE ROCK, Utah, Dec. 3 (AP)—A heavy trailer-truck yesterday struck and killed a 27-year-old Orem man on blizzard-swept U. S. 30s yesterday, and dragged his body three and one half miles.

Highway patrolmen identified the victim was Charles E. Smith. Smith's wife reported her husband stopped their car about 16 miles west of here to put chains on the tires. She said he was struck by a large truck.

The patrol first became aware of the accident when a truck driven by Dale V. Christian, 26, Chicago, became stuck in the snow at Echo railroad underpass. They noticed bits of flesh and clothing on the truck, and retraced its path until they discovered Smith's body.

Plane Plant Due For S. L. Region

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 3 (UP)—A new branch of Rohr Aircraft corporation may be constructed in the Salt Lake City area because of a $100,000,000 backlog of unfilled orders, J. E. Rheim, Rohr executive vice president said here yesterday.

Rheim said it may be a week before a decision is reached, but the Salt Lake City area was under consideration.

The San Diego plant, which employes some 5,000 persons, produces a wide variety of aircraft parts and sub-assemblies.

Leads Checked in Robbery of Store

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 3 (UP)—Police were checking "a couple of possible suspects" today in the robbery of the W. T. Grant store in downtown Salt Lake City Saturday afternoon.

The armed bandit, who robbed the store during the rush hour, escaped with more than $4,000 in currency. The gunman forced two women cashiers to fill a paper sack with large bills and then fled past the store manager into the crowded street.

BOISE, Dec. 3 (AP)—Anton Gordon, who still works at filing saws and doing notary public work, celebrates his 103rd birthday anniversary today.

The reason for his longevity? Gordon says it's because his long-lived, hardy Norwegian ancestors "knew how to bring up children." Also, he doesn't overeat and has yet to spend his first penny on liquor or tobacco.

Although his work involved helping other oldsters obtain old-age pensions, one of Gordon's proudest claims is that "I am not an old-age pensioner."

Improving of Law On Workers Eyed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—The labor department had under consideration today a proposal that immigration laws be strengthened to clamp down on use of Mexicans as hired help on American farms.

A proposal that penalties be imposed on those who wilfully harbor, conceal or transport aliens illegally in this country was advanced by farm spokesmen from all parts of the country who met here last week with Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin.

Serving as an advisory committee to the labor department's farm placement service, the farm representatives recommended the rounding up of illegal aliens in industry as well as agriculture.

The department of foreign affairs was created by act of congress, July 27, 1789. The name was changed to department of state, Sept. 15, 1789.

Minor Accidents Reported in T. F.

No injuries were reported in minor accidents in Twin Falls over the week-end.

A 1948 Chevrolet sedan owned by Dale Sandness, 219 Sixth avenue east, sustained a dented left rear fender while parked in Twin Falls at 5:38 p.m. Sunday. The door of a 1940 Chevrolet coupe driven by Jay Johnston, 137½ Main avenue west, came open while the car was moving and struck the Sandness car's fender.

Wesley C. Lay, 737 Second avenue east, reported his 1947 Packard sedan was sideswiped by another car between 2 a.m. and 9:07 a.m. Sunday. The right side of the other car was believed damaged. The left rear fender and front of Lay's car were damaged.

19 Donations of Blood Reported

Nineteen pints of blood were contributed to the community blood bank at Magic Valley Memorial hospital, laboratory personnel reported Monday.

Donors included eight from the Beta Sigma Pho sorority, three from the Twin Falls Garden club, one from the American Legion auxiliary at Eden, two volunteers and five friends and relatives of patients.

Stanford Players Dominate Coast's All-League Squad

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 3 (AP)—Stanford university's Rose bowl bound Indians, with California the runnerup, dominate the 1951 all Pacific Coast conference two platoon football team as picked for the Associated Press by the men who should know the talent best—the conference coaches.

Two players were singularly acclaimed—Hugh McElhenny, Washington's tremendous fullback, and Les Richter, California's giant lineman.

The 230-pound Richter was named to both the offensive and defensive teams, as guard and linebacker, respectively.

Machine-like McElhenny was the only player who received the unanimous vote of all nine coaches in the conference for a place in the backfield.

Selections for the offensive unit were clear cut, while opinions on the defensive team were more varied and close, particular for the ends.

Named to support McElhenny in the offensive backfield were Paul Cameron, UCLA; Frank Gifford, Southern California, and Gary Kerkorian, Stanford.

Stanford placed four men on the offensive team. They were end Bill McColl, who was almost a unanimous pick; tackle Jim Vick; guard Norman Manoogian, and Kerkorian.

California landed three—Richter; center Charles Harris, and Tackle Bob Karpe.

The other end position was voted to rangy Ed Barker, Washington State, who netted almost as many ballots as McColl.

There wasn't much argument about several of the positions on the defensive platoon.

For the linebacking role, Richter and Pat Cannamela, Southern California, were decided favorites, but support was accorded Donn Moomaw, UCLA and Jim Wiley, Washington.

For defensive halfbacks, Dick Lemmon, California, and George Shaw, Oregon, the latter the lone freshman to make the grade, were named in close balloting over Dick Sprague, Washington, and Bud Roffler, Washington State.

Johnny Williams, Southern California, edged out Dick Horn, Stanford, for the safety position.

No less than 10 were nominated for the two defensive end positions, which went to Don Steinbrunner, Washington State, and Jack Rye, Stanford, the latter, a senior, who barely nosed out his teammate, Ron Eadie, for one of the places.

Herman Clark, Oregon State, and Jim O'Brien, Washington, won the tackle honors, and Washington's Ted Holzknecht and Jess Cone, Stanford, were named at guard.

The Associated Press all Coast conference poll was handled in this fashion: The coaches, after conferring with their assistants, individually made their selections. The names, or votes, were counted. It was as simple and as unbiased as that.

Perhaps the lone surprise was the absence of California's fullback, Johnny Olszewski, to make the team. Injuries which kept him out of several games undoubtedly cost him his chance. At that, he barely missed out.

Three Idaho players were given honorable mention, including tackle Don Ringe, guard Pete Hester, offense, and end George Macinko, defense.

Small Margins Taken by Four Bowling Teams

Bradley Wonders About Three Men Who Went AWOL

PEORIA, Ill., Dec. 3 (AP)—A Bradley university spokesman said today he didn't believe the three missing Braves basketball players would be permitted to rejoin the squad even if they returned to school.

The three, Pat Dunn, Chicago; Don Anielak, St. Louis, and Dick Pikrone, Chicago, failed to report for the team's first game Saturday night against Vanderbilt. The once mighty Braves lost 55-51.

Meanwhile, sources in Peoria said there had been humors of at least one of the three receiving a "fabulous offer" to play basketball from a southern university this season.

It was reported that all three were failing in their studies and might have quit Bradley before the opening game to preserve their eligibility for this season. The sources said it was rumored that "considerable pressure" had been placed on the three men in the past two months to withdraw and enroll elsewhere.

Jim Thorpe, Athlete of Century, Is Broke, Sick Old Man; Benefit Slated

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP) — Jim Thorpe, America's most fabulous allround athlete, is a tired, sick, broke and sorry old man.

Jim, 63, is recovering from an operation to remove a skin cancer from his lip. So broke now that he hangs his hat wherever he can find a nail, Jim's sorry he didn't put the blue chips in the right square when fate was on his side.

The Washington Touchdown club hopes to do something for the old guy in the way of collecting funds to set up a trust fund. Jim Gibbons, a local sportscaster, sort of touched off the drive.

The incredible story of Indian Jim Thorpe is well known. The towering, raw-boned, muscular fellow probably was the first high school player ever to make Walter Camp's All-America selection as a football player.

That was back in 1911 when Thorpe, fresh from a reservation, was with the Carlisle Indians. The team was coached and trained by the immortal "Pop" Warner and, while it played college teams regularly, almost all of the kids on the squad were of high school age.

The Carlisle boys could really roll. They beat the stuffings out of Harvard, Penn State, Pennsylvania, Minnesota and Syracuse among others in 1911 and the following year.

Thorpe established something of a "first" in one Harvard game. Big Jim stuffed the ball under his sweat shirt, made off wide to the left and crossed the goal standing up. He then whipped out the ball and touched it to the ground for the winning touchdown.

There was quite a rhubarb about it, but the touchdown was allowed.

You'll remember reading about Jim's feat in the Olympics of 1912. Entered in the decathalon, he walked away with all of the honors. The simon-pures screamed that he had a professional tint and to this day our man does not possess the medals he believes were rightly his.

Jim had a fling at major league baseball after that—and played a little professional football. He did all right on the gridiron, but was never much shakes on the diamond.

He is supposed to have established another "first" while playing with Toledo of the American association, though. Legend has it that he banged a long one to the outfield and wedged the ball in a knot hole in the fence. While the outfielder was trying to un-wedge it, the winning run tripped across the plate.

But Jim's luck has turned against him in late years and it hasn't improved as of now.

The other day they had a Jim Thorpe feature race at nearby Bowie, Md., race track. A hay-burner named "Ring-Me-Up" romped in a winner and paid over $100. Thorpe had a five-spot down—but on the wrong horse.

Caldwell Cage Squad May Win Big 6 Title

CALDWELL, Dec. 3 (AP)—Five lettermen and three promising looking transfers spark a Caldwell high school basketball team capable of pulling a surprise in the Big Six conference.

The Cougars' main scoring punch from last year—center Hugh Stringfield—has graduated, but Coach Curt Jarvis could field an all-lettermen squad when Caldwell entertains Meridian Tuesday night in its season's opener.

Jerry Cloninger, speedy ballhawking guard; Alan Kosmata, six foot, two inch center and forward, and Jim Stewart, five foot, 10 inch guard, were first stringers last year and will provide the bulwark of the Cougars. Other lettermen are Jim Warner and Virgil Bates, both five foot, 10 inch forwards.

Jarvis said his 1951-1952 Cougars will be a little stronger on the backboards than last year's team which fought Boise and Nampa down to the wire in the district tournament last spring.

Jarvis has high hopes that Ron Sears, six foot, six inch transfer from Franklin high in Portland, can work into a starting job and give the Cougars much-needed height.

Two other transfers who are rated top prospects are Lamont Keller, six foot center from Preston, and Bob Wallace, five foot, nine inch junior guard from Preston.

Ernie Keys is a six foot, two inch sophomore who is likely to see a lot of action at forward. Other squad members include Frank Payne, five foot, nine inch senior guard; Larry Nielson, six foot senior forward; Bruce Steiner, five foot, 10 inch junior guard; Tom McCollum, five foot, nine inch junior guard, and Ron Engle, six foot junior forward.

Jarvis picks Idaho Falls, defending state champion, as the team to beat in Big Six play. He ranks Boise second, Nampa third, Twin Falls fourth and Pocatello fifth. He didn't predict how Caldwell will finish.

Eden Quintet Aided by Nine Returning Men

EDEN, Dec. 3—The Eden Grizzlies, runners-up last season in district class B basketball play, are rebuilding this season with nine lettermen under a new head coach, Grant Budge.

After Eden's inter-class tournament Budge reports that his squad lacks height but has a lot of spirit and should hold its own this season.

Returning lettermen are Gay Henry, six feet; Kenneth Lattimer, five feet, 11 inches; Bob Lamb, six feet; Jim Shawver, five feet, nine inches; Ron Hawley, five feet, nine inches; Bill Reed, five feet, 11 inches, and Floyd Gambrel, five feet, 11 inches.

Juniors seeking positions on the team are Bob Henry, Jerrold Lange, Vern Shockley, Jon LaJeunesse and Don Peterson.

Eden opens its season Friday in a contest with Hansen at the Kimberly gymnasium. Other games include:

Dec. 11—Dietrich at Eden. Dec. 14—Declo at Eden. Dec. 21—Eden at Murtaugh. Jan. 5—Kimberly at Eden. Jan. 12—Castleford at Eden. Jan. 18—Fairfield at Eden. Jan. 19—Eden at Hazelton. Jan. 26—Eden vs. Heyburn at Jerome. Feb. 1—Eden at Hailey. Feb. 2—Murtaugh at Eden. Feb. 8—Hansen at Eden. Feb. 9—Hazelton at Eden. Feb. 12—Eden at Dietrich. Feb. 13—Eden at Kimberly. Feb. 15—Hailey at Eden.

Dick Kazmaier to Slow Activities

PRINCETON, N. J.—Dec. 3 (AP)—Dick Kazmaier, All-America back who paced Princeton to its second undefeated football season in a row, said he definitely will not play basketball this season.

His announcement ended perhaps the greatest athletic career in the history of Princeton.

Strange Things

Bob and Ralph Oser, Twin Falls, are wondering about the wanderings of elk.

While duck hunting Sunday just west of Wendell about 100 yards from state highway 25, a big cow elk got up in front of them in a drainage ditch and galloped off.

Signs indicated the elk had been bedded down in the area for two or three days.

Big Questions On Docket at Baseball Meet

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Dec. 3 (AP)—Five big major league questions remained to be answered and five important minor league problems waited to be solved as the minor leagues opened their golden jubilee convention today.

Some 1,200 baseball people representing 49 leagues from all corners of the nation were present.

These are the questions:

1. Will Eddie Stanky manage the St. Louis Cardinals?
2. Will Joe DiMaggio announce his official retirement?
3. Will Ted Williams be traded?
4. Will the New York Yankees get Ned Garver?
5. Will the Brooklyn Dodgers get Ewell Blackwell or any of the other star pitchers of the Cincinnati Reds?

The five problems confronting minor league baseball are: (A) Open classification for the higher minors; (B) radio and television inroads on minor league attendance; (C) high school rule; (D) abolition of 24-hour recall of players sent to lower classification and trimming of big league roster from 25 to 23 players; (E) placing an eighth club in the International league.

The cold war between owners Fred Saigh of the St. Louis Cardinals and Horace Stoneham of the New York Giants continues as the Redbirds boss declares he had three other candidates in mind besides the Giants' scrappy second baseman.

The Giants have asked for outfielder Chuck Diering and southpaw Max Lanier. Saigh refuses to part with any of his pitchers. He has offered a second string infielder along with Diering for Stanky.

Lou Boudreau has just about decided to take Ted Williams' name off the market. The new manager of the Boston Red Sox is not satisfied with any of the offers he has had for his star slugger.

Carey Cagers Top Richfield 39-33 In First Contest

RICHFIELD, Dec. 3—The Carey Panthers opened their 1951-52 basketball season here Saturday night by defeating the Richfield Panthers 39-33 in a hard-played contest.

Sparked by Coates, who tallied 22 points, Carey took a 20-13 halftime lead and held the margin throughout the second half. Play was loose for both teams, typical of early-season action.

Richfield girls defeated Carey girls 41-36 in the preliminary.

College Football Faces Criticism In Winter's Lull

NEW YORK, Dec. 3 (AP) — The college football season quietly folded today—except for the usual rash of bowl games—but before the moleskins are hauled out again you'll hear plenty about the game. Roughing . . . TV . . . subsidization . . . spring practice, they'll occupy the time and talents of the top administrators and coaches in the country through the winter.

There doesn't seem to be much doubt that by the time the 1952 season starts, there will be many a modification in the high pressure tactics employed by the colleges. Many presidents and coaches alike have expressed themselves strongly on the subject of recruiting.

The past season there were at least five incidents that a rose as a result of accusations of roughing. The most serious led to Drake's withdrawal from the Missouri Valley conference because of a broken jaw received by Johnny Bright, at that time the nation's leading ground gainer. Drake officials claimed he was roughed deliberately by Oklahoma A and M.

But that wasn't an isolated incident. Even in the Ivy league, tempers got out of control in the Princeton-Dartmouth game with no fewer than a dozen combatants helped off the field.

So it seems apparent that the rules committee will have to take some action for roughing. Possibly a stricter interpretation of the rules by officials would do the trick.

In the stormy matter of television, the embattled NCAA only Saturday reiterated its stand on video, defending its actions on the experimental program of limited telecasts, and claiming once again that it never has been told by the department of justice that the move was illegal.

What will happen in television next year is problematical. The NCAA is expected to decide at its annual meeting in January after the research organization hired for the program has tabulated the results.

Subsidization, spring practice, scholarships and sundry other problems need solving, too.

When the final returns are in tomorrow, the top team in the country for the year will be decided. Tennessee, which has been leading the Associated Press poll for several weeks, had rough going Saturday— probably the result of a natural letdown after beating Kentucky—but defeated Vanderbilt 35-27.

Navy submerged Army 42-7 in Philadelphia before a crowd of 99,000 in a game that in past years might have had some bearing on the national standings. The same can be said of Notre Dame's 19-12 upset over Southern California. No national recognition there, either.

The last two teams for the big bowls also have been selected. Texas Christian, winner of the Southwest conference title after defeating Southern Methodist 13-3 goes to the Cotton bowl as host team against Kentucky. Baylor, runnerup to TCU, will play Georgia Tech in the Orange bowl New Year's day. The Bears whipped Rice 34-13. Georgia Tech swamped Georgia 48-6.

The world's first five money-winning horses—Citation, Stymie, Armed, Assault and Whirlaway — all raced at Hialeah.

Hazelton Has Hopes to Top Cage Record

HAZELTON, Dec. 3—Six returning lettermen and a lot of hustle lead Hazelton Coach Don Hunt to believe his Badgers will have a fair basketball season this year. Hazelton expects to better last season's record.

Hazelton will be short of height and a little shy of reserve power.

Returning lettermen are Jim Brown, Karl Lance, Jerry Knapp, Orville Stokes, Carl Murphy and Bob Grant. Brown, Lance, Stokes and Murphy are seniors.

Hunt reports so far Murphy, Knapp, Lance and Stokes are shaping up as starting material and two or three boys on the junior varsity squad are pushing hard for the other positions.

Hazelton should have a fair junior varsity team and "with a little experience some of the boys are going to help us a lot next year," Hunt said.

Hazelton opens its season here Friday night by entertaining Soda Springs. Other games are: Dec. 8—Murtaugh at Hazelton, Dec. 14—Hazelton at Dietrich, Dec. 15—Carey at Hazelton, Jan. 5—Bellevue at Hazelton. Jan. 11 — Hazelton at Carey. Jan. 12—Hazelton at Bellevue. Cleveland, Rams Shoot for Title

NEW YORK, Dec. 3 (AP)—With two weeks to go, it seems like a good bet that the Cleveland Browns and Los Angeles Rams again will meet for the national football league championship.

Both took long strides toward that goal yesterday by racking up impressive, one-sided victories.

The Browns moved to within one game of clinching the American conference title by smashing the Chicago Cardinals 49 to 28 behind Otto Graham's brilliant pass work.

And Los Angeles took over the top spot in the National conference with a 42-17 victory over the once mighty, but now ordinary Chicago Bears.

This victory, coupled with Detroit's loss to San Francisco, dropped the Lions from first place and all but ended the Bears' hopes for the conference crown.

More Become Homeowners, Check Shows

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UP) — In spite of what most city apartment dwellers may think, landlords are becoming fewer.

For the first time in almost a century, America has more homeowners than tenants. The landlord is not completely washed up by any means but his heyday is waning.

The enigmatic characters to whom city folks grudgingly pay rent to on the first of every month (or else!) gradually are being crowded out by the rise of the suburbs and the increase of individual home owners.

The trend to the outskirts of town, where a family man can be a king in his own castle and a farmer in his back yard, is more than offsetting the long-time migration from farm to city. In fact, it is slowing, and in some cases halting, the growth of the cities themselves.

Automobile Helps

Spurred by the automobile, the movement to Suburbia was speeded up greatly by the more-nearly full employment of the last decade, according to an article in Technology Review, a publication of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The number of home owners—exclusive of farmers—almost doubled since 1940. It rose from 11,413,036 in that year to about 22,000,000 in 1950. Of these, nearly 20,000,000 live in single family houses.

The greatest building boom in the nation's history saw 5,500,000 one-family homes erected since 1940, most of them since the end of World War II and almost half of them in 1949 and 1950.

Billions Invested

Over and above mortgages, these individually owned homes represented a net value of about $160,000,000,000, nearly twice as much as the nation's total bank savings deposits.

Another 1,500,000 proud home owners live in America's 5,250,000 two-family structures, and 300,000 more occupy space in houses with three or four flats.

It is not hard to figure out from these figures how the number of urban tenants dropped to 13,000,000 by last year, a decrease of 3,000,000 from 1940.

Furthermore, most city areas, both large and small, now have more persons living in smaller dwellings than in apartment houses. New York and Chicago—a couple of die-hards—are the only two exceptions. There the cliff dwellers hang on, resisting tenaciously the outgoing tide to Suburbia.

Lag for Spending Brightens Budget

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (UP) — Spending lags were reported today to have caused a slight improvement in the federal budget outlook for next year, but a deficit of at least $10,000,000,000 still is indicated.

The deficit for the current fiscal year, ending next June 30, is expected to be at least $3,000,000,000 and perhaps more, depending on the rate of defense spending.

This outlook was reported by a usually well-informed source familiar with some of the preliminary work done in preparing the budget President Truman will submit to congress in January. That budget will contain recommendations and estimates for fiscal 1953, starting July 1.

Wherry Honored At Final Service

PAWNEE CITY, Nebr., Dec. 3 (AP) National leaders joined Nebraskans today in paying final respects to Sen. Kenneth Spicer Wherry, Republican floor leader and vociferous supersalesman of old line Republicanism.

The 59-year-old Nebraskan died of pneumonia in Washington last Thursday.

Both Democrats and Republicans alike were here for his funeral. A group of 23 senators and five representatives were among those arriving to attend the services in the Presbyterian church.

Insurance Agents Picket Prudential

NEW YORK, Dec. 3 (AP)—Prudential Insurance company agents began picketing on a wide front today in their 32-state strike for higher base pay.

A deadlock over the pay issue between AFL Insurance Agents International union and the company resulted in a strike at midnight Friday when a two-year contract expired. However, picketing did not start until today because of the usual week-end holiday.

Hundreds of pickets marched in front of the company's offices in the New York metropolitan area.

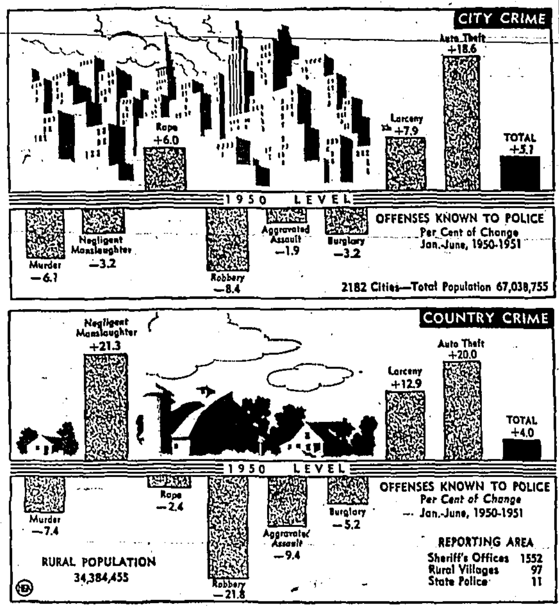
Crime Keeps on Its Upward Swing



Crime in the United States during the first half of 1951 was higher by 5.1 per cent in cities and by 4 per cent in rural areas, according to the FBI's semi-annual crime report. Leading the rise was auto theft, both in cities and rural areas, and negligent manslaughter in rural areas. These newscharts, based on FBI data, compare earlier 1951 crime rates with those of the first half of 1950. The late 'teens and early 20s appear to be the ages with greatest tendency toward crime. Criminal offenses by men under 21 showed a slight decrease, but for women a rise of 7.2 per cent. Biggest increase (12.6 per cent) in crime among girls under 21 was in prostitution, commercialized vice and other sex offenses.

Judge OK's Trust Fund on Teaching Manners to Irish

LONDON, Dec. 3 (AP)—A British judge signalled an apprehensive go-ahead today for a $263,200 attempt to smooth the rough edges off the Irish.

Justice Sir Harry Vaisey opened the way for the great experiment by approving a trust set up by the Irish-born wife of the late playwright George Bernard Shaw to teach the Irish people "the social graces." In passing judgment he commented:

"How the people of Ireland will react to such intensive treatment as Mrs. Shaw appeared to envisage we ought not to speculate."

The court action was brought by the National Provincial bank of England as trustee for the estate of Mrs. Shaw, who died in 1944. The bank questioned whether a valid charitable trust could be set up to carry out the project of teaching the Irish better manners.

The National City bank, Dublin, designated by Mrs. Shaw to carry out her ambitious project, contended that the trust was valid. The Irish bank was upheld by the court's decision.

Power Boost Aids Farmer Income Gain

WEST FARMINGTON, O., (UP)—Within seven years, it is estimated that electricity on an average farm can increase by more than 51 per cent the money earned per hour of productive labor.

That's the idea promoted by a practical electrification experiment on the Joseph Motz farm near here.

The evidence that farm electrification more than pays its own way was contained in a report prepared for Westinghouse Electric's farm electrification department.

Since 1944, when electric power first reached the 262-acre Motz farm, records have been kept on the farm's production and progress.

Man-Hours Saved

The report said intelligent use of electricity on a farm can eliminate a great many man-hours of hard work and do a better job at considerably lower cost.

The experiment is being carried out under conditions identical to those faced by the average farmer. Motz bought new electrical equipment at retail prices, using only the profits from the farm's operations to do it.

In 1944, the farm returned 66 cents for each hour of work he put into the various productive enterprises. By 1950, the return had increased to $1.17 for each hour of work. By reducing the time required for basic farm operations, Motz and his son had more time for other enterprises, or for lieisure.

Cash Return Better

The report pointed out that although farm prices have increased during the seven-year period, the cash return on the Motz farm has kept well ahead of the general rise in prices received for all commodities.

Motz said that although there is no such thing as push button farming, electricity has proved to be one of his most valuable and inexpensive hired hands. He said that unlike many other services, the more of it he uses, the cheaper it becomes.

Honored Here

A farewell luncheon was held at the Turf club Monday afternoon for Marion Hepworth, state home demonstration leader, who will leave the extension service to return to her home in Kansas after being in the service about 25 years.

She was honored here by the county home demonstration council and other local women.

Mayor Asked for Recount

Sheriff Ed Ryan (right) signals "that's it" to Mayor Eric G. Hoyer (left) during weighing ceremonies in Minneapolis. Weighing the mayor is an old English custom to determine whether or not the mayor has worked hard enough to keep from gaining weight while in office. Mayor Hoyer was dismayed to find he had gained three pounds and asked for a recount. (NEA telephoto)

New Car Buyers Won't Have Much Choice for Few Weeks

DETROIT, Dec. 3 (AP)—The new car buyer will not have too many 1952 models to choose from in the weeks immediately ahead.

Some new models already are in production, many will not reach volume levels until after Jan. 1. Those already in production are models in which relatively few changes were made. Yet to come are several which the manufacturers claim include substantial engineering and styling alterations.

The latter will not roll off the assembly lines in full quota volume for several weeks. The quotas, of course, are fixed by the national production authority. In round figures the quota for the first quarter of 1952 has been set at 1,000,000 passenger automobiles.

The new model program indicates some manufacturers will need their full quota allowance, while others may have difficulty reaching the indicated volume level. Where extensive changes are made it sometimes takes weeks to work them into the routine of manufacturing processes.

Some of the auto manufacturers aren't worried too greatly about the raw materials prospects for the first quarter of 1952. They are concerned, however, about the outlook for the year's second quarter. The April through June period usually is the industry's season of largest production and greatest demand.

A further cut in the industry's maximum allowable output during the second quarter most certainly would bring a new car shortage.

Most carmakers believe restrictive controls will get a lot tougher before they are modified. It is true that the regulations imposed on the industry are decided upon after lengthy conferences with the carmakers' advisory committee. It doesn't follow, however, that the auto company heads always agree with the production authority executives.

The industry representatives have been hammering away at materials, production quota, price, wage and other regulations ever since controls became law. Representatives of the industry's "big three" of General Motors, Chrysler and Ford have been especially outspoken in their criticism of the controls program.

At the same time they have emphasized that the industry is doing its utmost to "live-with" the program as long as it is on the statute books.

With all the controls the automakers have found time and material to complete numerous experimental projects that were begun before the defense emergency.

No Changes Due For China Policy

LONDON, Dec. 3 (UP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill, for many years a leader in the fight against communism, said today he did not "at present" consider withdrawing British recognition of the Chinese red government.

The Chinese communists were recognized by the recent labor government in February, 1950.

Churchill's colonial minister, Oliver Lyttelton, said in Singapore, Malaya, Thursday, that the conservative government may reconsider the recognition of the reds.

Labor members questioned Churchill on the question in commons today.

"No change is at present contemplated in our policy toward China," Churchill said.

Former Air Force Man Signed Again

Melvin J. Stanford, 211 Ninth avenue north, has returned to the air force and has been sent to Nellis air force base, Las Vegas, Nev., as a prive first class, according to M/Sgt. Paul Marshall, army and air force recruiter here.

He had one year and two months of previous air force service and told the recruiter he may make the air force his career and intends to apply for cadet school when he has sufficient college credits. He is the husband of Frances Yvonne Stanford.

Drop Noted in State Acreage Getting Water

BOISE, Dec. 3 (UP)—Idaho, although growing in the number of irrigation enterprises in the past 10 years, now has fewer acres being supplied with water.

That was the substance of the U. S. census bureau's preliminary 1950 agriculture census, released here today.

The report showed there were 2,277,857 acres under irrigation in 1939, while in 1949 there were 2,168,323 acres.

4,621 Firms

The bureau said there were 3,625 businesses, either public or private, which operated irrigation works to supply water for farming in 1940. By last year, this had increased to 4,621.

There were 3,558 single farm irrigation projects, 648 unincorporated, 52 district, three commercial, five bureau of reclamation, six bureau of Indian affairs and one city project.

In addition, there were 5,108 diversion dams, 366 reservoirs, 437 miles of pipe lines and siphons, some seven miles of tunnels, 490 flowing and 887 pumped wells and 15,321 miles of canals and ditches.

Lemhi Has Most

Lemhi county had the most irrigation enterprises, with 377, but Twin Falls county had the most acreage under irrigation, 230,726 acres, and ranked ninth in number of projects, with an even 200.

Washington county ranked second in projects with 287 and had 30,164 acres under cultivation with water. Others figures included:

Cassia county, 229 projects and 103,246 acres; Canyon county, 226 and 193,208; Payette, 212 and 54,056; Bingham, 210 and 156,560; Custer, 208 and 52,115; Owyhee, 204 and 76,436, and Ada, 179 and 102,978.

Hollywood Stars Visit Paul School

PAUL, Dec. 3—Paul students were entertained Friday afternoon by visits from three people from Hollywood. The visitors were nearly an hour late and school did not let out until nearly 5 p.m. but pupils didn't object.

The visitors were Paula Raymond, Dean Jagger and Dean Luscier. A discussion was held with the students asking questions and Miss Raymond answering.

That evening the three visitors were guests at a banquet in Burley at the National hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Arvis Edmonson, Paul, and Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Harris, Burley, were hosts.

Paul residents who were guests at the banquet were Mr. and Mrs. James Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. U. U. Locander, Mr. and Mrs. Eller Watson, Mr. and Mrs. H. Jess Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Blain Nielson, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Spreier and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brauer.

Engineer Injured In Odd Accident

THISTLE, Utah, Dec. 3 (AP)—David LeGrange Hillhouse, 50, Salt Lake City, an engineer for the Denver and Rio Grande Western railroad, was injured seriously in a freak accident here yesterday.

Hillhouse had stopped his westbound freight train on a siding here. Then while eating in a cafe near the tracks he glanced out the window, saw some cars moving and apparently thought his train was moving.

Fellow workmen said Hillhouse climbed between two of the moving cars, apparently in an attempt to uncouple an air hose which would set the brakes automatically. He slipped and was run over, receiving arm and leg injuries.

Railroad officials said the train which ran over him was not the one he had piloted into Thistle, but was another freight train.

Shopping Early

Hunting Accident Fatal for Utahn

PROVO, Utah, Dec. 3 (AP)—The body of Ralph William Craven, 51, Provo businessman, was found yesterday in Utah lake. Officers said he had either drowned or died of a heart ailment brought on by overexertion.

Craven and his son, Charles M. Craven, home on leave from Camp Roberts, Calif., were duck hunting Saturday. Their boat hit a stump, cutting a hole in the craft. They managed to reach shallow water, however.

The younger Craven left his father at a duck blind in Mud lake, south of Provo boat harbor, and pushed the damaged boat through shallow water, reaching shore west of Spanish Fork. He notified authorities who set out in search of the elder Craven.

Searchers found the man's body in about four feet of water, approximately a mile south of the duck blind where he had been left.

BACK HOME

HANSEN, Dec. 3—Mr. and Mrs. Don Garrett and son have returned from Ogden where they have been visiting Mrs. Garrett's brother, Kirby Hill, and family.

Auxiliary Leader Goes to Conclave

DUBOIS, Dec. 3 (UP)—Mrs. Earl S. Wright, president of the women's auxiliary, Idaho Woolgrowers' association, left today for Portland, Ore., with the two Idaho winners in the "make it with wool" contest. They will attend the convention of the National Woolgrowers' association.

The other two in the party are Patricia Maughan, Preston, winner in the senior division, and Diana Hampton, also Preston, junior division winner.

Cub Scout Pack In Buhl Presents Show at Program

BUHL, Dec. 3—Members of Cub Scout pack 5 presented puppet shows at their meeting Friday night at the Methodist church.

Mrs. Walter Wells was presented a den mothers appreciation award for her work as den mother last year. Awards were presented by parents to John Roskelly, LeRoy Harmon, Kenneth Christensen, Jimmy Dalos, Lawrence Quigley and Gary Anderson, bobcat; Kenny Albertson and John Roskelly, fellowship; Kenny Albertson, Joe Koch, Johnny Barker and Dick Pierce, bear; Rodney Dowd, LeRoy Harmon and Robert Pierce, wolf.

Gold Arrow awards were presented to Kenneth Albertson, LeRoy Harmon, Robert Pierce, Rodney Dowd, Dick Pierce, Joe Koch, Charles Starr and Vernon Shaver. Silver Arrows went to Joe Kock, Rodney Dowd, Charles Starr, Vernon Shaver and Gary Chesnut. Bob Watt and Jimmy Shields were awarded one-year pins.

There are twenty-nine boys in Pack 5 which is sponsored by the Methodist church. More boys wish to join the pack but other den mothers must be obtained before another den can be formed.

Deluge

MANTI, Utah, Dec. 3 (AP)—More snow fell here during November than in any other November in the 44 years that weather records have been kept.

James M. Anderson, local cooperative weather observer, said 25 inches of snow fell in Manti during the month.

Precipitation amounted to 2.37 inches; an amount exceeded only once, in November, 1915, when precipitation was 2.42 inches.
